Truman Advised Government Has Power to Take Over Railroads

Strike Parley Delays Seizure

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark said today that he has advised President Truman that the government has ample authority to seize the strike-threatened railroads.

The government was holding off on seizure, hoping that it can avert the nationwide strike called for next Tuesday.

But high officials made clear that the lines will be taken over if the government fails to settle the dispute between three unions and the carriers.

The railroad situation and the question of seizing the carriers was explored fully at a cabinet meeting with Mr. Truman at the White House this morning.

Even as Clark gave his opinion to Mr. Truman, leaders of the three unions met in another wing of the White House with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. The presidential aide was reported to have submitted a number of proposals to the union leaders designed to forestall the strike.

The brotherhood men called in to talk with Steelman are David B Robertson, president of the Firemen and Enginemen; Alvanley Johnston, grand chief engineer of the Locomotive Engineers, and Alfred J. Glover, president of the switchmen's union.

Clark, leaving a cabinet meeting, said the seizure power was contained in a 1916 act applying to railroads in time of war emergencies.

NO ACTION STARTED

He emphasized, however, that no preparations were under way to accomplish such seizure.

"I have not seen, approved or advised the preparation of seizure orders," Clark said.

Clark said that a recent Supreme Court decision affirmed that the President's war powers under the 1916 act are still valid.

The act could be applied now because, in a legal sense, the nation is still at war. Peace treaties have not been made.

Clark planned to confer with the President again this afternoon. His opinion was delivered to the chief executive in written form.

Informed sources said that the proposals which Steelman would put to the union leaders would not give them much hope for a better settlement than that recommended by a presidential fact-finding board in March. The board recommended 15½ cent hourly increases. The unions want 30 cents. The railroads accepted the board's suggestions, but the unions turned them down

Rail Strike Would Hit Industries

Food Supplies Also Will Be Reduced

Manfield's meat and other food supplies will be cut sharply and industries virtuall, will be throttled by the railroad strike scheuled for next Tuesday night.

Some meat dealers said their supplies may be cut as much as 50 per cent despite the fact that they do much of their own butchering and other meat is brought in by truck.

Meat supplies which will be curtailed most will include processed meats, such as hams, bacon and cold cuts which are shipped by rail.

The trouble would be in obtaining enough butchers to take care of the increased demand for meat, dealers here said.

Mansfield industries probably will be harder hit than those in most other Ohio cities because of the nature of the products they manufacture, John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said.

Most plants make bulky materials and storage space is limited. When freight service stops, shipments of raw materials into the city also will be halted.

"I would say that industries here would not be able to keep going for very long in case the strike goes through," Routzon said.

The Chamber of Commerce supplied shipping figures for April which give a pretty good idea of just how seriously the strike would affect Mansfield.

In April the Pennsylvania railroad handled 1,240 cars of supplies in and it sent 1,628 cars out of Mansfield. The Erie had 368 cars in and sent out 349. Over the Baltimore and Ohio, 802 cars were received and 425 sent out.

Sees Threat Of Frost

Gardeners were warned today that frost may nip their beans and tomato plants tonight or Saturday night.

The weatherman said clearing weather late today will be followed by a drop in temperature with frost possible in northern Ohio by tomorrow morning or Sunday morning. Fair and cool weather was forecast for Saturday.

Temperature in Mansfield dropped to 45 at noon today, declining steadily during the morning. High yesterday was 65. Nearly a half inch of rain fell in the city last night and early today.

The weather bureau's five-day outlook for Ohio follows:

Temperatures will average near or slightly below normal for the period. Warmer Tuesday, cooler Monday and Wednesday. Showers late Sunday or early Monday and again about Wednesdy. Total rainfall near one-half inch

Galion Votes Teacher Raise

GALION—The Galion board of education at a meeting last night voted a $60 adjustment in teacher salaries for the 1947-48 year. The increase was voted to conform to requirements of increased state aid under the school foundation law.

With an increase of $450 voted to all teachers last summer, the adjustment raises all teachers a minimum of $510 for the present school year. The board said the average salary increase as a result would be $554 a teacher.

The board added that the adjustment applies only to this school year and does not change the base salary schedule.

Air Power Funds High

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The air force readied buying orders for 2,727 new warplanes today, awaiting only President Truman's signal to start building a 70-group peacetime airmada.

Shortly after the Senate gave a 74 to 2 vote of approval yesterday to a $3,233,200,000 airpower expansion fund, air force officials announced they were warming up their purchasing machinery.

A senate-House conference committee was expected to act swiftly to compromise minor differences in the bill previously passed by a 343 to 3 vote in the house.

The measure then will go to the White House where favorable action seems likely despite the $822,000,000 added to Mr. Truman's original request.

This was the money tacked on to assure a start toward the 70-group air force rather than the 55 groups first planned or the 66-group compromise put forward by Secretary of Defense Forrestal in his plea for a "balanced" military expansion.

Flag Week Dates Set

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Governor Herbert today proclaimed June 14 as Flag day and the period of June 8 to June 14 as Flag week.

He urged Ohioans to "pay homage to Old Glory and to those who have fought to make and keep us free."

Youth, 14, Admits He Killed 2

Wanted Auto For a Dance

BRYAN—(AP)—A 14-year-old junior high school athlete signed a statement just before midnight last night admitting he shot and killed a 57-year-old couple because he wanted their automobile for a dance, Sheriff Norman A. Barnes reported.

The sheriff identified the boy as Ervin Authur Ingle, who played both football and basketball on Bryan junior high school teams.

The youth was held today in Williams county jail without charge

Sheriff Barnes said Ervin sobbed out the details of how he shot John Gabriel, a railway mail clerk, and his wife, Pearl; drove their automobile to a boy friend's house and hid the slayweapon, a pistol, in his own home.

Here's how Sheriff Barnes retold his story:

Ervin and another junior high student wanted to go to a dance to be held tonight. Ervin promised his friend that he would "have a car for the dance."

He went to the Gabriels' home, entered, shot Gabriel with the pistol, pushed him down the basement stairs and forced Mrs. Gabriel to drive him to the country.

STOPS AT CEMETERY

At the cemetery, he said, he told Mrs. Gabriel to stop the machine and get out. She stopped, handed young Ingle the keys and stepped to the ground.

Barnes said the youth then said he shot the woman through the head and drove away. He left the automobile at the friend's house, about three miles out of Bryan, and returned home.

His father, Keith F. Ingle, an employe of a milk company in Bryan, sat by his side throughout the lengthy recital, his face twitching with emotion.

The youth was held today in Williams county jail without charge. Sheriff Barnes said he would turn the case over to the

Arabs Lose Canaan Fort

JERUSALEM —(INS)— The Jewish Haganah army claimed capture today of the strategic Jodaphat fortress atop Mount Canaan in a new drive to cement control of Northern Palestine

Haganah's announcement was accompanied by reports of a major shuffle in its high command in view of the organization's imminent emergency as the official Jewish army with proclamation of a Jewish state immediately after midnight May 16.

Drastic changes are expected to include replacement of the chief of staff and of many Palestine-trained Haganites by regular officers with experience in the second World war.

These will include former British veterans and members of the Jewish brigade and various European armies.

CALLED TO WASHINGTON—Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, waits for a train in the Cleveland terminal. He was called to Washington last night by John R. Will Attend Funeral In Body

Pupils Pay Tribute To Traffic Victim

LEXINGTON—Lexington high school's student body paid tribute today to Donna Jean Potts, popular 15-year-old sophomore, who was killed in an auto-truck crash near Mt. Gilead Wednesday night.

Memorial services were arranged for 1 p. m. in the high school auditorium with Rev James Davis, a high school teacher, officiating.

Tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., the entire student body will go to the family home near Steam Corners, north of Johnsville, to attend funeral services. Rev. Davis and Rev. Kunze will officiate.

Six of Donna Jean's tenth-grade classmates will serve as pallbearers. They are Charles Wilkinson, Robert Lehnhart, Louis Williams, John and Gene Wirick and Donald Boylan.

Meanwhile, Donna Jean's brother, Ted, 14, a high school freshman, and Glenn Rinehart, a 20-year-old Marine at home on furlough, were reported slightly improved in Mansfield General hospital.

Both were injured critically when the car driven by Rinehart collided head-on with an oil truck driven by Walter Augustus Darfus, 43, of Newark. Darfus was only slightly injured.

Rinehart and the two Potts children were headed for Mt Gilead to attend a Youth for Christ meeting.

Rinehart is the son of Mr and Mrs. Robert Rinehart, Lexington, R. D. 2, neighbors of Mr. and Mrs C. W Potts Donna Jean's parents.

'Voice' Gets More Force

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A fighting "Voice of America," counter propaganda organ of the United States, plans today to intensify its drive to carry the facts of democracy behind the iron curtain.

The new spirit generally is attributed in governmental circles to the hand of George V. Allen, veteran career diplomat who recently was recalled from his post in Iran to govern "The Voice."

Allen succeeded William Benton as assistant secretary of state in charge of public affairs. Benton, with a famous record in publicity and advertising, established "The Voice" but was unable to coax funds from Congress to keep going at full efficiency

Allen has been more successful and, on the basis of additional funds allotted him, has instituted a new active regime.

Plans Long Rest In Family Home

Miss Lewis Quits as YWCA Secretary

MISS WILLETTA LEWIS

Resignation of Miss Willetta Lewis as executive secretary of the Mansfield YWCA was announced today by Miss Betty Blackstone president of the association

The resignation, effective May 27, has been accepted by the YWCA board of directors, Miss Blackstone said.

She expressed regret that Miss Lewis had decided to leave.

"I think we've accomplished more under Miss Lewis's leadership here than we have for a long time," Miss Blackstone said. "She told us a year ago that she didn't think she'd stay longer than May of this year because she badly needed a rest. But we're sorry to see her go."

Although her plans are indefinite, Miss Lewis expects to spend most of the summer at her home in Morris, N. Y., resting in the family home. For part of the summer she is planning to vacation in the family cabin in the Adirondacks.

By September, Miss Lewis probably will return to YW work in her home state and near her Morris home, she said

She came to Mansfield in September four years ago from Washington, where she had been doing war work Miss Lewis started the first YW-USO camp in Corpus Christi, Tex.

She formerly was general secretary of YW associations in Bradford, Pa.; Rochester, Minn, and St. Louis, Mo. A native of Rochester, N Y., she was graduated from Eastern college and took post-graduate work in social science at Columbia and at Washington university.

No successor has been named, although Miss Blackstone said the board had received several applications.

Cutter Aids Stalled Ship

KODIAK Alaska—(UP)—A coast guard cutter reached the crippled cannery tender "Tootsie" today and began cutting her free of an ice jam which had held the vessel and her 13 crew members prisoner for two days

The cutter Bittersweet radioed the coast guard here that it reached the side of the sinking tender.

The coast guard said the cutter was breaking up the ice around the Tootsie and ploughing a path 25 miles west to Port Heiden in Bristol bay

The 119-foot converted LCT was squeezed in the Arctic ice pack two days ago as it tried to make the 200-mile run from Port Moller to the Egegik packing plant in the easternmost corner of Bristol bay

The captain of the Bittersweet said "we are freeing the Tootsie and breaking a path through the ice to shore." The coastguard said the tender was able to make shore under its own power.

In the face of a rising storm and churning ice pack, the Bittersweet finally reached the vessel, which was slowly sinking.

The cutter had raced 400 miles in the last 24 hours.

Teacher's Body Found In Lake

PORT CLINTON —(AP)— The body of a 31-year-old school teacher was recovered from Lake Erie last night near North Bass island.

Dr George A. Poe, Ottawa county coroner, identified the woman as Miss Ruth Lichtenberger, 31, a teacher at North Bass island for two years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Lichtenberger of Waldo.

Pigeon Ends Race After Nine Years

CLEVELAND —(AP)— After nine years, one of Frank S. Wellman's pigeons has returned from the 100-mile race it started back in 1939.

Appearing well fed, the check-colored bird landed on the loft and promptly slipped inside to take its accustomed perch.

Wellman said the pigeon started the race 100 miles from Cleveland, but he was unable to remember the exact point.

"Not many birds come back after nine years," he commented "But they do have remarkable memories."

Pigeons live to be about 15 years old.

European Union Urged By Churchill

Proposes Crusade For Unification

THE HAGUE —(UP)— Winston Churchill called today for a crusade to unify all of Europe and make it strong enough to smash communism or any other threat to London.

Churchill, the first statesman to come out for a United States of Europe after the war, spoke at the European congress.

Eight hundred delegates from 23 countries met in the ancient Knight's hall, the throne room of the Dutch parliament, for an 'unofficial" discussion of the union of Europe

The meeting followed by a few weeks the signing of the Brussels treaty of five Western European nations and soon thereafter the banding together of still other countries under the European recovery program.

"Why should so many million in the humble homes of Europe — aye, and its enlightenment and culture—sit quaking in dread of the policeman's knock?" Churchill asked.

"That is a question which perhaps we have the power to answer here.

"After all, Europe has only to arise and stand in her own majesty, faithfulness and virtue and confront all forms of tyranny, ancient and modern, nazi or communist, with forces which are unconquerable and which if asserted in good time, might never be challenged again."

Churchill said the movement to unite Europe was "a firm expression of democratic faith based upon moral concepts and inspired by the sense of a mission.

"We welcome any country where the people own the government and not the government the people."

Mock GOP Convention Opens Today

OBERLIN — (AP) — Oberlin college's traditional mock Republican convention opens today for two days of intensive debate on a platform and a pair of nominees

Sessions of the convention duplicate the meetings of the national party. Organization of state delegations, lobby pressure groups, behind-the-scenes deals, and exuberant demonstrations combine to produce a realistic replica. At least 1,200 spectators are expected for this 22nd session

Tonight delegates will begin debate over a 12-plank, 4,000-word platform Tomorrow night's session will nominate the presidential and vice presidential candidates.

The week-end proceedings are touched off today by a mile and a half parade. The parade will be headed by a pair of elephants and will include floats entered by 52 delegations marching bands from nine high schools in Oberlin, Elyria, Lakewood and Mansfield, and will be covered by a blanket of 12 AT-6 trainer planes from the air force base in Cleveland

Sawyer Sees Policy Change

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer said at the White House today that a new definition of policy on export controls will be issued by the administration within a few days.

Sawyer told newsmen that the whole question of policy on such controls was discussed by the President's cabinet this morning.

The new commerce secretary who hails from Cincinnati, O., said that "the whole question of trade between eastern and western Europe is involved in export control policy."

Follows Blast At Lamb Deal

Inquiry Started Quietly, Report

The un-American activities committee of the House of Representatives in Washington has an investigation of the FCC under way today.

A committee source revealed this after a public request for an investigation had been made by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La), Associated Press reported from Washington

Hebert, who Tuesday loosed a blast at the FCC on the floor of the House for granting five radio permits in two weeks to Toledo Lawyer Edward Lamb, addressed a request for investigation to both the un-American Activities committee, of which he is a member, and the House Commerce committee, which handles legislation dealing with the FCC.

Hebert's request was based on his desire to determine whether the FCC is "part of a red network," Associated Press reported.

"We have had the FCC under investigation quietly for some time," an un-American Activities committee spokesman told Associated Press in Washington.

A committee spokesman said that the group is checking both the FCC and Lamb, according to a United Press dispatch from Washington.

LAMB "CASTS CLOUD"

Hebert said "a cloud has been cast over the FCC" because of its preferential treatment of Lamb, reputed communist and red sympathizer who has been allotted FM broadcasting licenses in Mansfield, Springfield and Erie, Pa., and television licenses for Columbus and Erie.

Announcing his requests for probes by both the un-American Activities and Commerce committees, Hebert said:

"I'm asking either committee or both for a full-scale investigation. This should be cracked wide open. I understand that the situation is even worse than the Lamb case—that they (the FCC) have given broadcasting permits to aliens. That is strictly against the law."

Previously, Hebert had told the House that Lamb has "expansive records of association with the communist party in America, front organizations and fellow travelers." He referred to Lamb as "a man saturated and drenched in communist writings, associations and affiliations."

CHARGES FAVORITISM

Lamb, saying "I have denied many times being a communist" called Hebert's speech a "vulgar smear attack," Associated Press said.

In a letter to Chairman Wolverton (R-NJ) of the House Commerce committee, Hebert said he understands the committee has a file "on the unusual diligence of the Federal Communications commission in favoring particularly those applicants who walk arm in arm with fellow travelers of the Communist party."

The un-American Activities committee plans to take no public action on Hebert's request until after an anti-communist bill it is sponsoring clears the House, Associated Press said.

Rep. Mundt (R-SD) co-author of that bill, today cautioned "overzealous supporters" not to ruin it with "false teeth." The measure is scheduled to come before the House May 21.

Next Wednesday the Senate Interstate Commerce committee also is scheduled to open an FCC inquiry directed by Senator Tobey, who also has promised a full-scale inquiry looking into FCC allocations, regulations and patent ownership.

Lamb Files Suit For Half Million

ERIE, Pa.—(AP)—Publisher Edward Lamb of the Erie Dispatch said today he had started a $500,000 damage suit charging libel against the Times Publishing company, publishers of the Erie Times.

Lamb, president of the Record Publishing company and an attorney, said the suit was based on stories and headlines appearing in the Times. Lamb charged these stories and headlines were published to harm him in his professional, business and social activities.

Big Jim Weds Girl Half His Age, and Size

ROCKFORD, Ala. (U.P.)—Alabam's huge governor, James E. (Kissin' Jim) Folsom, vacated his "most eligible bachelor" post today and honeymooned with a beautiful new bride half his age and little more than half his size.

The six-foot eight inch Folsom was wed to tine Jamelle Moore, 21-year-old former secretary on the governor's staff, in a surprise ceremony here Wednesday.

The governor and his new first lady left immediately on a wedding trip to Florida.

The 39-year-old widowed governor is currently facing a paternity suit filed by a blonde divorcee, Mrs. Christine Putman Johnston. Mrs. Johnston, a native of Folsom's home county, claims that Folsom is her common-law husband and father of her 22-month-old son.

In Tuesday's Democratic primary election in Alabama, Folsom suffered his first popularity setback. His senatorial candidate was beaten more than 4 to 1 by incumbent John J. Sparkman and Folsom himself ran far back in a race for delegate-at-large to the National Democratic convention.

STARTS SATURDAY—"State of the Union," movie version of the popular stage play which appeared in Mansfield several months ago, will open at the Madison theater with a prevue showing at 11:30 p. m., Saturday. The regular showings will begin Sunday. Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn are starred in the picture.

FHA Elects Officers

ASHLAND—Miss Bonnie Sloan is newly elected president of the Future Homemakers of America unit at Ashland high school. Other officers include Miss Norma Witmer, vice president; Miss Joan Moneysmith, secretary; Miss Donna Braden, treasurer; Miss Raydina Tucker, news reporter, and Miss Jane Smith, historian.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals addressed to: Director of Service - Safety, Mansfield, Ohio, and endorsed "Proposal for Gass Road Bridge Over Clear Fork," will be received by the Director of Service-Safety of Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio, until 12:00 noon, E. S. T., May 28, 1948, and then and there publicly opened and read.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Director, or at the office of the Engineers, The Jennings-Lawrence Company, Suite 538 Rowlands Building, Columbus, Ohio, and the same are referred to for details. Prospective bidders may obtain copies of the plans and specifications from the Director or Engineers upon payment to them of $5.00, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the plans are returned, in good condition, on or before the day of the letting.

All bids must be made on forms furnished by the Director or Engineers and all conditions herein contained and all blanks must be properly filled in, except that prices shall not be bid for items not appearing on the Engineers' estimate. No additional prices or qualifying clauses shall be written in.

Prices for labor and material shall be bid separately.

No bid will be allowed to be withdrawn, for any reason, after it has been deposited with the Director.

A bond or a certified check on a solvent bank located in Ohio, for an amount not less than 5% of the total amount of the bid must accompany this proposal, subject to the conditions stated in the proposal as security for the execution of the contract within ten (10) days after the award is made.

A bond for the fulfillment of the contract will be required in the amount of 100% of the contract price and in the form required by law.

Sureties on all bonds must be surety companies satisfactory to the City.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Any award made will be made to the lowest and best bidder. Informalities may be waived at the option of the City.

Each bid must contain the full name and address of each person or company interested in the same. When there is reason to believe that there is collusion or combination among the bidders, the bids of those concerned therein shall be rejected.

E. L. MORGAN,
Service-Safety Director
City of Mansfield, Ohio.

WHEN THE COW BARN

needs a new floor

A new concrete dairy barn floor is a No. 1 improvement for the farm—almost a necessity for dairying nowadays. When we build one in your barn—of smooth, long-lasting concrete—you will have a floor that is easier to clean and to keep clean—and one that will last.

One thing about concrete—when you do it with concrete, it's done. Invest your money each year in the improvement you need most, until all your rebuilding is done for good—in permanent, long-lasting concrete.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4 If the number is less than 6, add 3 The result is your key number Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

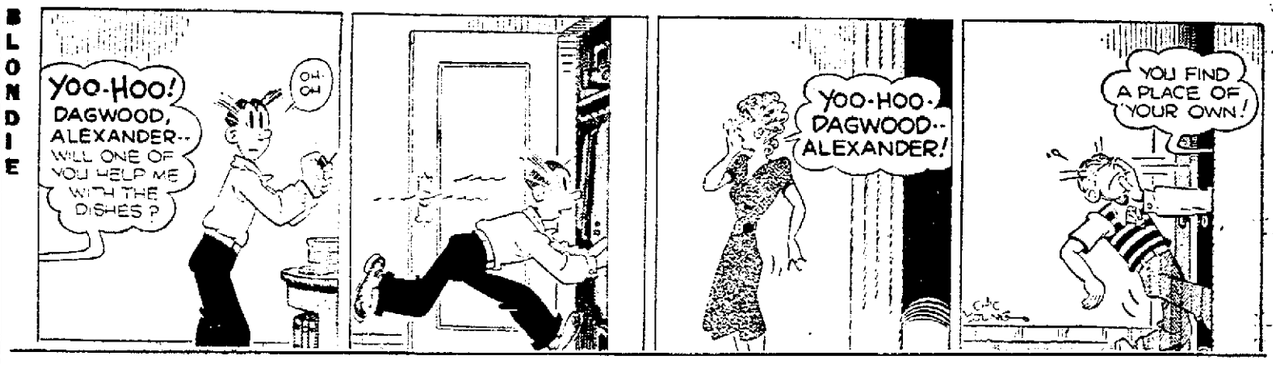
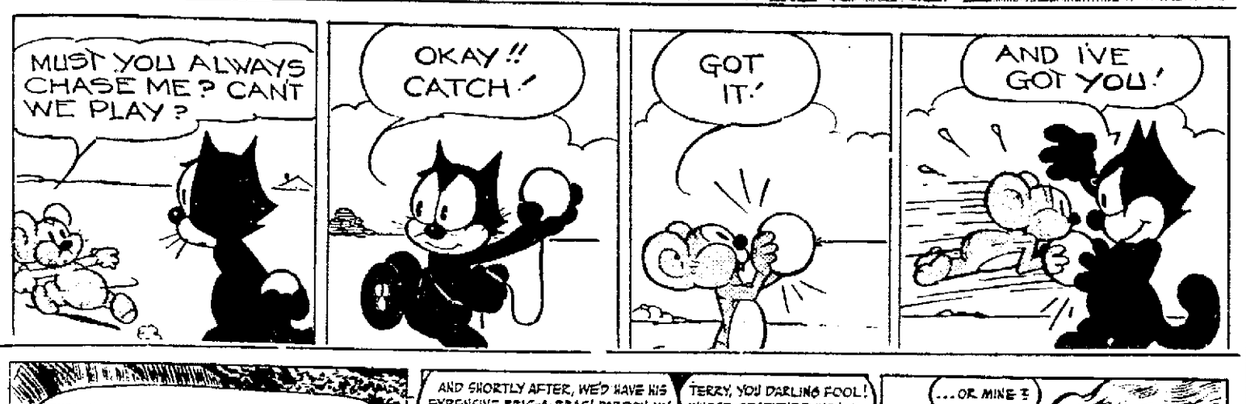
DAD'S GONE UP T'WILSON T'DO SOME SHOPPIN'. WE FIGGERED YOU'D NEED SOME THINGS THAT CAN'T BE FOUND IN A LITTLE VILLAGE THIS SIZE.
OH, MOTHER, DEAR... WHY DO YOU TWO DO THESE THINGS... I CAN NEVER TELL YOU HOW DEEPLY I APPRECIATE THEM...
BECUZ WE LOVE YOU SO MUCH... LIKE YOU WERE OUR OWN CHILD... HERE, HERE, NOW DON'T YOU CRY...
I... I... OH, MOTHER... I'LL MISS YOU AND DADDY SO... YOUR KINDNESS AND LOVE...
I'LL HAVE A PAPER, SON.
YESSIR.

BLONDIE



YOO-HOO! DAGWOOD, ALEXANDER-- WILL ONE OF YOU HELP ME WITH THE DISHES?
OH-NO
YOO-HOO DAGWOOD-- ALEXANDER!
YOU FIND A PLACE OF YOUR OWN!

FELIX



ORPHAN ANNIE

V-E DAY! VICTORY IN EUROPE! LOOK AT THEM, CELEBRATING! VICTORY? WHAT VICTORY? HO-HO!
THEY ARE SO NAIVE! WHEN AT LAST WE ACHIEVE THE REAL VICTORY, THEN WE SHALL SEE WHO CELEBRATES!.... IT WILL NOT BE THE SLAVES--
THERE HE WENT... IN THAT CAB--- IT'S O. K. NOW, SANDY! C'MON! I CAN'T GET LOST IN TH' BIG TOWN TOO SOON TO SUIT ME---
HAROLD GRAY

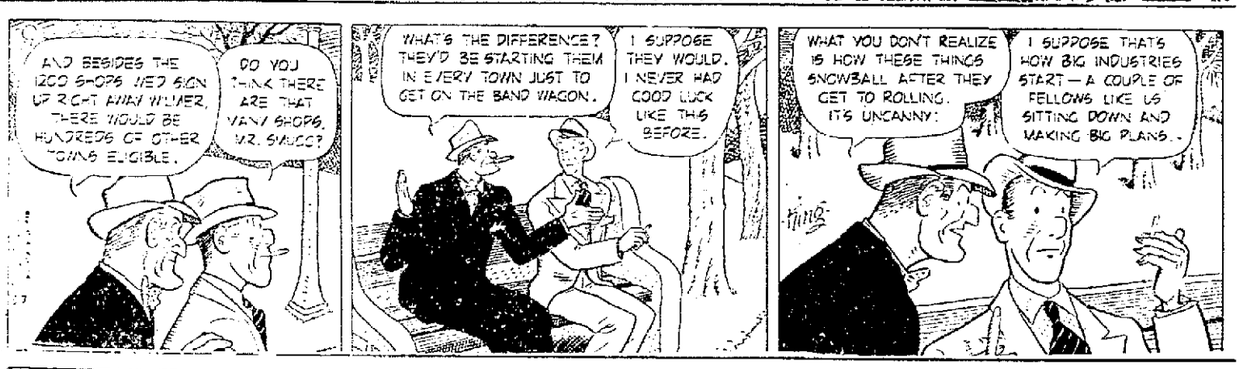
TERRY & PIRATES

TERRY! YOU MUST HELP FATHER AND ME TO GET THE ORIGINAL OF THAT STATUETTE. THERE MUST BE WEAPONS ABOUT. IF YOU AND CHARLES WERE TO GET YOUR HANDS ON THEM, WE COULD FRIGHTEN THE SERVANTS OFF... BRONZ WOULD BE AT OUR MERCY!
AND SHORTLY AFTER, WE'D HAVE HIS EXPENSIVE BRIC-A-BRAC! PARDON MY POINTING, MOTLEY, BUT ISN'T THERE A SLIGHT DETAIL YOU'RE FORGETTING— THAT THE LEGAL OWNER IS THE MUSEUM IT WAS STOLEN FROM?
TERRY, YOU DARLING FOOL! WHOSE GRATITUDE WOULD YOU RATHER EARN? A STUFFY MUSEUM'S?...
...OR MINE?

DICK TRACY

BUT YOU MADE A HOLE-IN-ONE! WHY, B.O., THAT'S TERRIFIC!
DON'T CARE FOR THE GAME, MR. SMITH, NOSSIR!
BOW WOW BOW WOW
AWFUL PURTY COUNTRY— NICE LAND! MAKES ME THINK OF EARLY DAY IN OHIO—
HEY YOU, QUIT BARKIN!
WELL, LOOK WHAT I FOUND! A PIPE—A NICE-LOOKIN' PIPE! LITTLE HUNK BROKE OUTTA THE BOWL— BUT THAT'S ALL RIGHT.
THAT DOG'S FOUND SOMETHING! LOOK AT HER DIG!
PLAGUE-TAKE-IT, SHE CAN'T DIG UP THE GULF COURSE LIKE THAT. CAN SHE?

GASOLINE ALLEY



AND BESIDES THE 1200 SHOPS WE'D SIGN UP RIGHT AWAY WILMER, THERE WOULD BE HUNDREDS OF OTHER TOWNS ELIGIBLE.
DO YOU THINK THERE ARE THAT MANY SHOPS, MR. SMUGG?
WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE? THEY'D BE STARTING THEM IN EVERY TOWN JUST TO GET ON THE BAND WAGON.
I SUPPOSE THEY WOULD. I NEVER HAD GOOD LUCK LIKE THIS BEFORE.
WHAT YOU DON'T REALIZE IS HOW THESE THINGS SNOWBALL AFTER THEY GET TO ROLLING. IT'S UNCANNY!
I SUPPOSE THAT'S HOW BIG INDUSTRIES START— A COUPLE OF FELLOWS LIKE US SITTING DOWN AND MAKING BIG PLANS.

LI'L ABNER

YOU!!
STOP WASTIN' YORE TIME READIN' COMICS!! PUT DOWN THET NOOSE-PAPER, AN' LISSEN TO ME!!

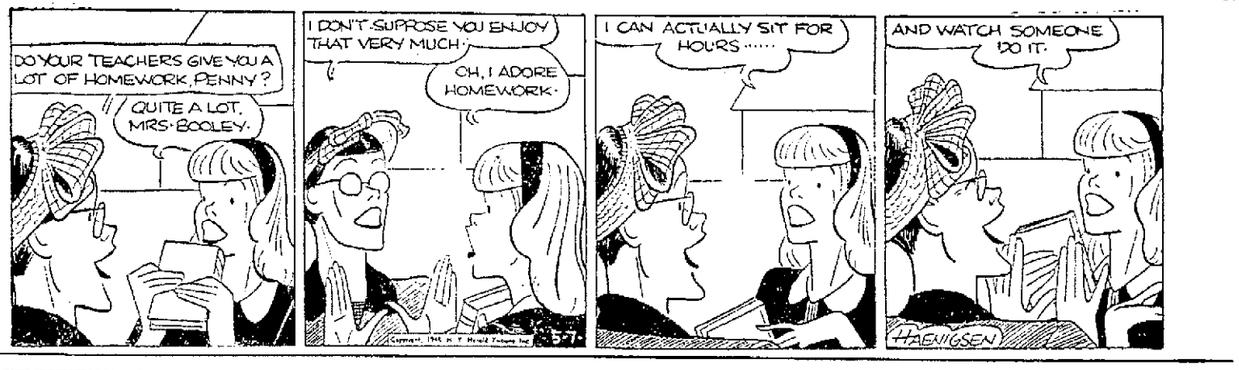
RIP KIRBY

WE'VE MET BEFORE... WHAT DO YOU WANT, DETECTIVE?
THE NAME IS KIRBY. I'LL BE BRIEF. I WANT SHANNY MALONE... THE BABY YOU BOUGHT ON THE BLACK MARKET! I REPRESENT HIS MOTHER.
THERE IS NO CHILD HERE, DETECTIVE!
DON'T TRY TO BLUFF ME STARLOCK! THE HOTEL IS BEING WATCHED... IF YOU TRY TO ESCAPE AGAIN, I'LL HAVE THE ENTIRE PARIS POLICE FORCE ON YOUR NECK!
SO! YOU HAVE ME AT BAY! BUT I WARN YOU, I WILL STOP AT NOTHING FOR MY WIFE'S SAKE! I WOULD EVEN USE THE GUN IN MY POCKET BUT FOR ONE REASON! COME, I'LL SHOW YOU...

BRICK BRADFORD

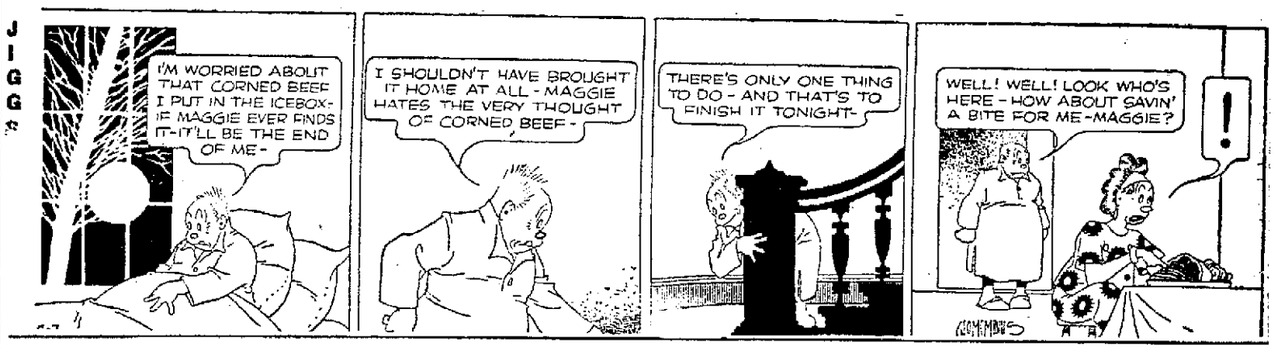
THE PROPHET OF THORN? WHO IS HE?
WE DON'T KNOW! NO OUTSIDER HAS EVER SEEN HIM!
THAT WILL BE YOUR JOB, BRICK -- TO SEEK OUT AND CONTACT THE PROPHET AND GAIN HIS FRIENDSHIP FOR US.
GOOD DEAL! I THINK I'LL LIKE THIS. I ONLY WISH I HAD GOOD OLD BUCKO O'BRIEN ALONG ON THE JOB.
YOU WILL! BUCKO ARRIVES IN PORTO ATALANTA TODAY!
FINE!

PENNY



DO YOUR TEACHERS GIVE YOU A LOT OF HOMEWORK, PENNY?
QUITE A LOT, MRS. BOOLEY.
I DON'T SUPPOSE YOU ENJOY THAT VERY MUCH.
OH, I ADORE HOMEWORK.
I CAN ACTUALLY SIT FOR HOURS.....
AND WATCH SOMEONE DO IT.

JIGGS



I'M WORRIED ABOUT THAT CORNED BEEF I PUT IN THE ICEBOX- IF MAGGIE EVER FINDS IT- IT'LL BE THE END OF ME-
I SHOULDN'T HAVE BROUGHT IT HOME AT ALL - MAGGIE HATES THE VERY THOUGHT OF CORNED BEEF-
THERE'S ONLY ONE THING TO DO - AND THAT'S TO FINISH IT TONIGHT-
WELL! WELL! LOOK WHO'S HERE - HOW ABOUT SAVIN' A BITE FOR ME - MAGGIE?

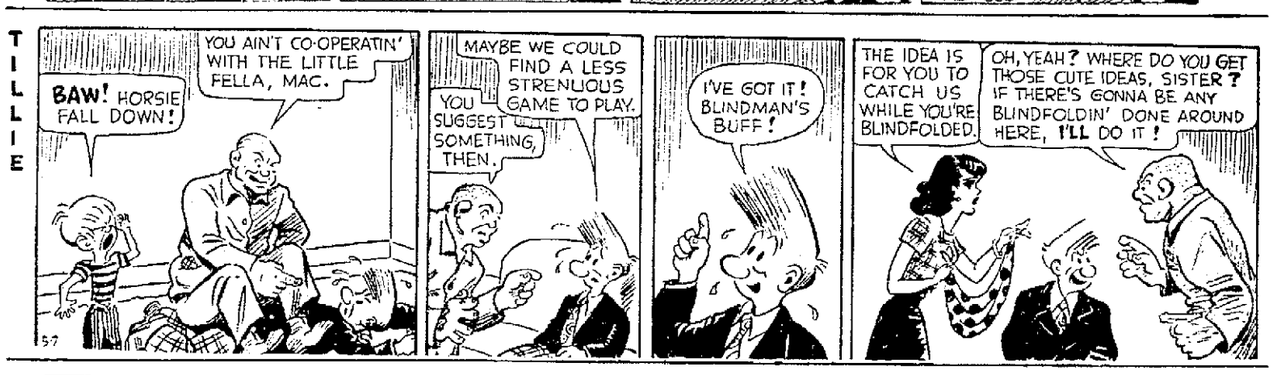
TILLIE

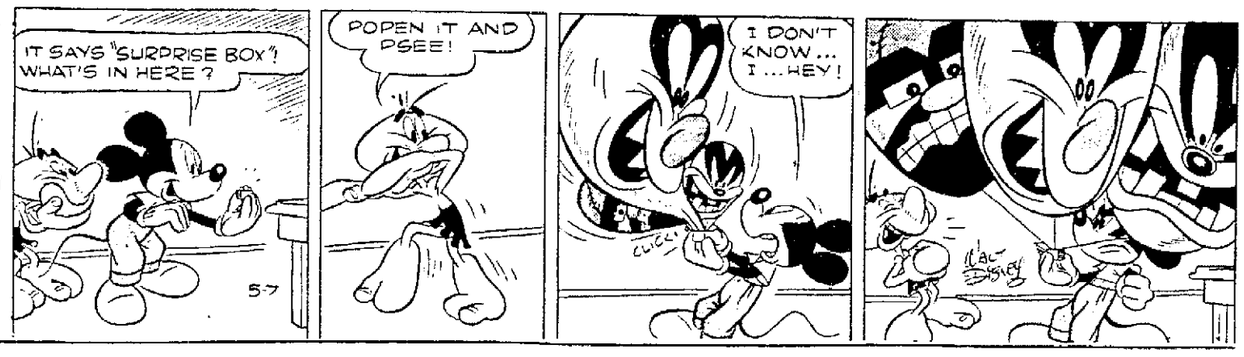


BAW! HORSIE FALL DOWN!
YOU AIN'T CO-OPERATIN' WITH THE LITTLE FELLA, MAC.
MAYBE WE COULD FIND A LESS STRENUOUS GAME TO PLAY.
YOU SUGGEST SOMETHING, THEN.
I'VE GOT IT! BLINDMAN'S BUFF!
THE IDEA IS FOR YOU TO CATCH US WHILE YOU'RE BLINDFOLDED.
OH, YEAH? WHERE DO YOU GET THOSE CUTE IDEAS, SISTER? IF THERE'S GONNA BE ANY BLINDFOLDIN' DONE AROUND HERE, I'LL DO IT!

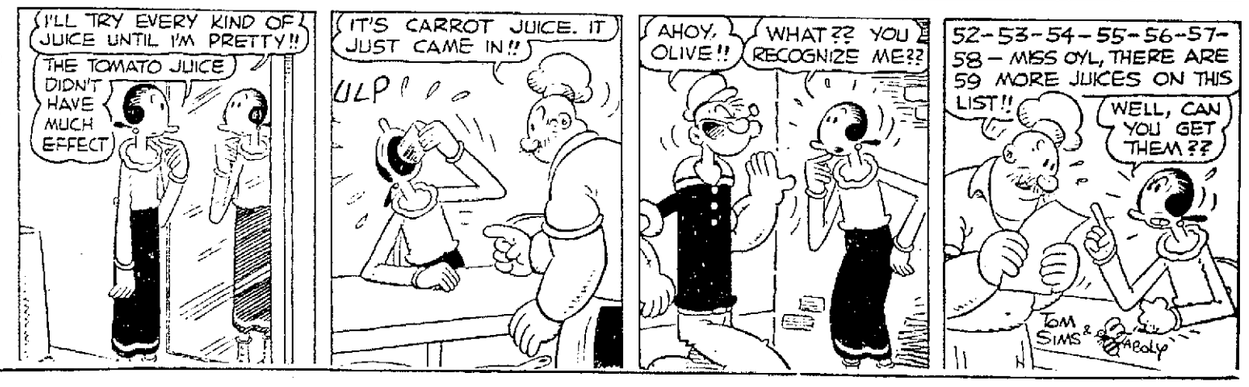
ABBIE AND SLATS

YOU'RE THE ONE THEY'RE ALL LOOKIN' FOR - BROOK CAROL - TH' MOVIE STAR!!! GOSH, LITTLE LADY, YOU DIDN'T HAVE ANY RIGHT TO DIS- APPEAR THE WAY YOU DID!!!
I WAS TWENTY-ONE YESTERDAY. FOR THE FIRST TIME I DID HAVE A RIGHT - TO DO ANYTHING I WANTED TO DO. AND THE ONE THING ON EARTH I DIDN'T WANT TO DO--
WAS TO CONTINUE GOING AROUND MAKING PERSONAL APPEARANCES LIKE A TRAINED DOG - AND SIGNING AUTOGRAPHS FOR HUNDREDS OF HALF-BAKED KIDS - I WANTED TO BE HAPPY AGAIN--
LIKE I WAS - WHEN I WAS SEVEN-TEEN WHEN GLAMAMOUNT DISCOV-ERED ME. I WAS A CARHOP AT A ROADSIDE RESTAURANT IN TEXAS. I'M GOING TO BE A CARHOP - AGAIN!!!

MICKEY MOUSE

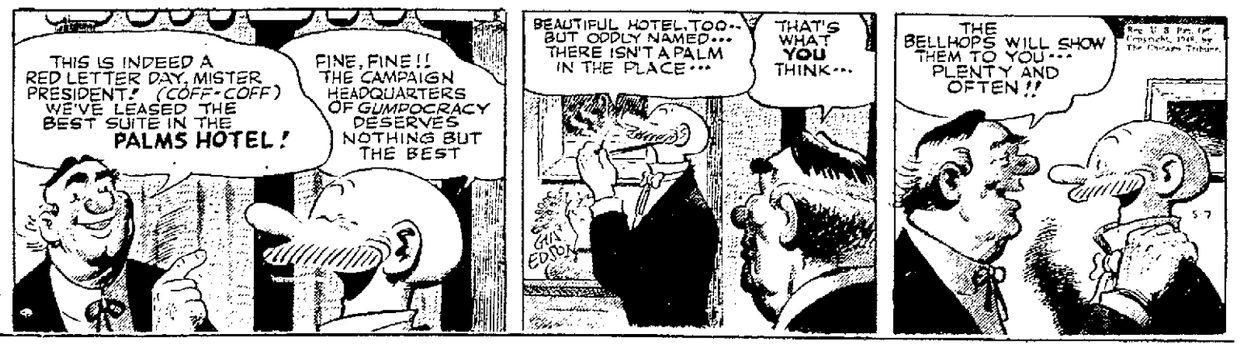


POPEYE



I'LL TRY EVERY KIND OF JUICE UNTIL I'M PRETTY!!
THE TOMATO JUICE DIDN'T HAVE MUCH EFFECT
IT'S CARROT JUICE. IT JUST CAME IN!!
ULP!
AHOY, OLIVE!!
WHAT?? YOU RECOGNIZE ME??
52-53-54-55-56-57-58 - MISS OYL, THERE ARE 59 MORE JUICES ON THIS LIST!!
WELL, CAN YOU GET THEM??
TOM SIMS & BOLLY

THE GUMPS



THIS IS INDEED A RED LETTER DAY, MISTER PRESIDENT! (COFF-COFF) WE'VE LEASED THE BEST SUITE IN THE PALMS HOTEL!
FINE, FINE!! THE CAMPAIGN HEADQUARTERS OF GUMPOCRACY DESERVES NOTHING BUT THE BEST BEAUTIFUL HOTEL, TOO-- BUT ODDLY NAMED--- THERE ISN'T A PALM IN THE PLACE---
THAT'S WHAT YOU THINK--- THE BELLHOPS WILL SHOW THEM TO YOU--- PLENTY AND OFTEN!!

THE NEBBS

RUDY, I HEAR YOU HAD QUITE A RUCKUS AT YOUR HOTEL
YEAH, THE NABOBS GOAT TOOK ROSCOE PORTERHOUSE FOR A RIDE. THEN SHE BUTTED MRS. PORTERHOUSE IN THE LOBBY!
SH-H-H.. HERE COMES ROSCOE AND HE LOOKS SORE
YES, THE STORY IS ALL OVER TOWN, ROSCOE, BUT YOU KNOW HOW THINGS GET AROUND FOLKS WILL FERGIT ABOUT IT AFTER THEY STOP LAUGHIN'
MY WIFE HAS BEEN ILL WITH HUMILIATION EVER SINCE THAT CONFOUNDED GOAT EPISODE
DON'T LET IT GET YOUR NANNY, ROSCOE
By HESS

SUPERMAN

YES-YES- ALL RIGHT. CHARGE IT TO SUPERMAN!
NOW THIS LITTLE ITEM WILL ONLY COST YOU-
ALL RIGHT- CHARGE IT TO SUPERMAN! OH-THERE GOES THE DOORBELL AGAIN!
OH DEAR- SEND ANYTHING YOU LIKE! JUST GO AWAY AND LEAVE US ALONE!
MEANWHILE, AT THE DAILY PLANET...
SUPERMAN! YOU'LL HAVE TO HIRE A WAREHOUSE! WE CAN'T HANDLE ALL YOUR MAIL!
GREAT SCOTT! BILLS! THOUSANDS OF THEM!

Summer Comfort For Men

Always Lower Priced at Sears...

FASHION TAILORED TROPICAL SUITS

A Special May Economy
Buy at a Special Low Price!

$28.50
$6.00 Down

- Lightweight tropical fabric, holds its press
- Plenty of hand-tailoring where hand work counts
- Wilt and crease resistant for day-after-day smartness
- Porus, "air breathing" weave gives maximum comfort

Actually, when thermometers start pushing 100 the ONLY way to dress in comfort is to wear shorts and bare feet. But the next best idea is a Fashion Tailored Tropical. Because the careful tailoring keeps you looking fresh as a mint julep, the shape-holding fabrics help you keep COOL. You can get PERFECT FIT in a wide choice of styles and cool summer colors . . . at Sears money-saving price.

2-Year Terms Proposed for Atomic Commission Members

Compromise Plan Gains Supporters

Committee Will Study Proposal

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Potent support lined up in the Senate today behind a compromise proposal to extend the terms of David E. Lilienthal and other atomic energy commissioners for two years.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said he favors such an extension to avert an "unfortunate" controversy. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he probably will go along.

Vandenberg, the Senate's presiding officer and Taft, chairman of its GOP policy committee, were on opposite sides of last year's long and bitter battle over Lilienthal's confirmation. Vandenberg took a leading role in the successful fight for confirmation.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee told a reporter he hopes to lay the compromise plan before the committee early next week.

He and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), also a committee member, are authors of a bill to extend the terms of the present five commission members from Aug. 1, 1948, to July 1, 1950.

President Truman has submitted the nominations of Lilienthal for a new five-year term and of his colleagues for periods ranging from four to one years. The atomic energy act calls for such staggered terms.

It was Taft who first promised a fight against this plan. He suggested 13-month extensions to July 1, 1949, when Republicans hope the White House will be occupied by one of their party.

Mr. Truman said shorter extensions than those he proposed would "cast a pall of uncertainty" over atomic programs.

Taft said today he would have no serious objection to the Hickenlooper-Johnson plan.

"If the committee votes for two years, I will be satisfied—I will go along," he told a reporter.

Senator McMahon (Conn) top Democrat on the committee, has promised to fight any term-shortening amendment, saying the move would be playing politics with the whole program.

But Vandenberg said he thinks the 23-month extension would be the best way of handling the situation.

Williams county common pleas court.

The body of Mrs. Gabriel was found in a ditch adjoining a country cemetery by two women hunting mushrooms. Sheriff Barnes found Gabriel, critically wounded, in the basement of his home. Gabriel died in Cameron hospital in Bryan several hours later.

Barnes said the boy's father brought his son to the sheriff's office last night. He had learned of the Gabriels' automobile, which had been missing.

Young Ingle, the sheriff said, received good grades in school, was a husky lad fairly good at athletics and appeared to be a normally happy boy.

An eighth-grade student, he was 14 last February. He has one older brother.

In this town of 5,500, young Ingle was well known.

Asks Change In Boards

Tighe E. Wood, U. S. housing expediter, asked Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today to make changes in the Ashland and Crawford county rent advisory boards to make them truly representative."

The (AP) reported that no change was asked in the Richland county board which is made up of two landlords, two tenant and two general public representatives.

The Crawford county board has four landlords, one tenant and three general public representatives. Wood asked that it be changed to include two landlords, two tenant and five general public representatives.

The Ashland board now has one tenant, one landlord and two public representatives. It was asked to add a third public representative.

Changes were also asked in 32 other rent advisory boards over the entire state.

Woods said a national survey showed that only 109 of the more than 600 local advisory boards fulfill a stipulation of the new rent control law that the boards must be "representative of the affected interests" in each community.

McGregor Told To Rest Eyes

Congressman J. Harry McGregor, of the 17th Ohio district, which includes Richland county, is under a doctor's care for an infected eye and has been ordered to rest and avoid eye strain for the next few days.

His staff expects him back on the job by Monday at the latest, because of pressing duties as chairman of the subcommittee on public buildings.

Cubs Entertain Their Mothers

Members of the Den 5, Cub Scout Pack 2 entertained their mothers at a dinner in anticipation of Mother's day at the Richland Recreation Center Wednesday night.

The cubs are Dean Fighter, Peter Creamer, John Haringhaus, Mike Carrigan, Dick Blackledge, Jimmy Iler, Chuck Ticknor, Robert Williams, Larry Brinkman, Lardy Heiser, Bill Casey and Ronnie Smith. Mrs. Guy Smith, Highland avenue, is den mother of the group.

Den Chief John Robbins and Assistant Den Chief Tom Hathaway and their mothers were also guests of the den at the dinner.

Loan Company Elects Wolford

Dr. W. H. Wolford, Mansfield dentist, was elected president of the Mechanics Building and Loan association at a board meeting held yesterday.

Dr. Wolford fills the post left vacant by the death of Rudolph W. Hartman. Attorney John F. Kramer was elected to the vice presidency succeeding Dr. Wolford, and Lewis F. Hartman was chosen as a member of the board, a post formerly held by Attorney Kramer.

Funeral High Mass will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at St. Peter's Catholic church, for Otto A. Perl, 75, Mansfield business man for more than 57 years, who died at General hospital Wednesday night.

Msgr. R. C. Goebel will officiate and burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home where friends may call until time for services.

Youths Held By Police In Illinois

Pair Charged After Robbery Attempt

Two Richland county youths were held today in Aurora, Ill., on armed robbery charges after they tried unsuccessfully to hold up a Joliet attorney who gave them a ride in his car, authorities here learned this afternoon.

The youths, former inmates of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, are Fred Benner, 17, Butler, and Ralph E. Johnson, 18, Mansfield. Benner was shot while trying to flee the industrial school several years ago.

The pair stole a car from a Mansfield parking lot May 1 and abandoned it in Sandusky, Richland county deputy sheriffs said.

Aurora police told Richland county officers that the youths drew a gun on the Joliet attorney, but he talked them out of the holdup and drove them back to Joliet where he reported to police. The youths were apprehended a short time later.

Their cases are expected to be presented to the grand jury in Aurora May 17. Prosecutor Theodore Lutz asked for a detainer on the pair today, but he was informed by Aurora police the youths would be prosecuted there.

Flames Damage Building, Car

City firemen were called twice last night to extinguish flames in a smokehouse and an automobile.

They went to the home of Peter Schuch, 320 Grace street, at 5 p. m. when a smokehouse caught fire.

A car owned by Emmett Casey, Lucas, was damaged at 6:35 p. m., when fire, believed to have started from a welding torch, burned the floor boards and front seat. The auto was being repaired at a shop on North Mulberry street.

Municipal Court Worker Resigns

Mrs. Mary Bredbeck Cline, deputy municipal court clerk, has resigned her post, effective May 15, to become secretary to C. J. Kalhfleisch, city solicitor.

Mrs. Cline, who has worked in the municipal court office since Sept. 7, 1946, will be succeeded by Miss Miriam Bauer, assistant deputy clerk.

Dems to Pick New Leader

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The next Democratic state chairman probably will be Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover.

Hanhart's selection as state chairman appeared virtually certain with the nomination of former Gov. Frank J. Lausche for a second term as governor in Tuesday's primary.

He would replace Albert A. Horstman of Dayton. Horstman, it is understood, will not be a candidate for re-election.

Await Report On Traffic

The official report of Vurnon Johnson, Cleveland traffic expert who recently surveyed Mansfield traffic will not be ready for another 10 days to two weeks, John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today.

"We talked to Mr. Johnson by phone yesterday," Routzon said, "and he said the written report is completed, but he was still working on several maps that would not be completed for a week or so."

Johnson was brought to Mansfield by the traffic committee of the C. of C. to survey the local problem. His recommendations, along with those of Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals, who submitted a comprehensive traffic control plan in his annual report, will be studied by the C. of C.

Truck Servicing Bids Requested

Unsuccessful in a previous attempt to find a servicing agent for Mansfield post office trucks, the postal department today requested new bids. They will be received until May 17 at the post office.

Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said bids are being requested on storage, mechanical repairing, and servicing of seven trucks from July 1, 1948, to June 30, 1949.

A bidder may bid on all or part of the contract.

The trucks include two of half-ton capacity, three of one-ton capacity, and two one and one-half ton vehicles.

Decision Up To Trustees

BUCYRUS Next move in the long-hoped-for fire protection project in Sulphur Springs and Liberty township rested with township trustees today following passage of a two-mill levy for financing purchase of a fire truck by voters in Tuesday's primary

Instigated by a group of tax payers in both Liberty and Sandusky townships and organized as the Sandusky-Liberty Fire Protection association, the association's duties will now be only advisory as trustees take up the matter of purchase of fire fighting equipment Roy Welsh president of the association said today

Because Sandusky township voters failed to support the levy in that voting district the project will be developed by Liberty township alone trustees said

Decision to place the issue before voters was reached when efforts of the association to raise $12 000 by private subscriptions failed after only half that sum had been pledged

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE SIX — MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1948

According to a sociologist the comic magazine craze is a sign of mass infantilism—indicating increasing need for baby sitters in somewhat higher age groups.

Still importuned to save fat, the harried housewife is inclined to ask, "What fat?"

Good Wishes For Garrison

WHEN HE assumes his duties as Mansfield's new service-safety director next Monday, Earl T. Garrison can be assured of one thing. He will have the good wishes of the average citizen for success in his new job. The position of service-safety director is generally recognized as one that has its headaches. We are telling Mr. Garrison nothing new here. He knows it.

Also, most of Mansfield knows that the job is one which requires tact in handling the public, as well as care in supervising work of considerable technical detail. Unfortunately the service director has his contacts with the ordinary citizen at a time when the latter is disturbed over a plugged up sewer or a bumpy street.

Two men, William Enlow and Emmet L. Morgan who were quite generally popular and who sought to perform their tasks conscientiously, have given up the job within the past year and a half. Both frankly admitted that it just got to be too much for them—and one might add, "at the salary for which they were expected to work."

They undoubtedly gained some interesting experience and contacts from the position in spite of the salary. It is to be hoped, however, that the job will not become just a temporary fill-in for young men who are seeking experience. The job is vital to the well-being of the city.

Mansfielders will assume that Mr. Garrison is taking his public responsibility gravely in his new post. In turn he should be given every reasonable support both in carrying out his duties and in the amount of remuneration he proves himself entitled to.

FCC Should Be Called To Account

MEMBERS of the House of Representatives have had their attention forcibly focused on the Federal Communications commission and the manner in which that board lavishly granted five radio broadcasting licenses to Toledo Lawyer Edward Lamb in two weeks' time.

Lamb is the reputed communist and red sympathizer who has received an FM radio station license for Mansfield, as well as similar grants for Springfield and Erie, Pa., plus television licenses for Columbus and Erie.

The FCC-Lamb deal was blown wide open on the floor of the House Tuesday when Rep. F. Edward Hebert voiced a resounding denunciation of the FCC majority's action and described Lamb as a "man saturated and drenched in communist writings, associations and affiliations."

With this issue placed squarely before the congressmen, there seems but one logical course. The charge of communism against Lamb have been made strongly in a public, straightforward manner. There is plenty of evidence to support the charges and hence a great sufficiency to raise the question of whether the Federal Communications commissioners acted in the public interest when they proposed to entrust broadcasting licenses to a man of Lamb's character and with his past record.

The FCC is a creature of the Congress, set up by the legislators to administer the congressional act under which communications are controlled. If the commission has authority under the congressional act to handle this nation's radio affairs in the manner of the Lamb deal, then the act needs amendment. If the board's privileges under the law simply are being abused by the commission, then it is time that the Congress called upon the commissioners for an accounting of their actions—and for the motive behind those actions.

A thorough airing of the whole FCC mess, together with a long-indicated overhauling, seems the only cure. Congress will be derelict in its duty if it does not see that appropriate action is taken.

Claude Callan notices: "It is fairly easy to live down a past if you are able to dress elegantly, but you can't live down one in old clothes."

The home gardener may feel inclined to disagree with the department of agriculture's assertion that it is the soil that is overworked.

There is said to be a simultaneous falling-off in demand for flour and liquor—and thus do high prices finally hit essentials.

A Yodel He Can Understand

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Facts Call For Young President

PRIVATE TALK and public behavior at the 1944 Democratic convention all spelled out the general belief that Franklin D. Roosevelt would not live through a fourth term.

The battle for the vice presidency was a gruesome, sordid affair. Speaker after speaker suggested in broad terms that his man was vigorous and healthy. Truman, the final choice, was put over by bosses who eagerly looked forward to the accession of a president who would remember the boys. And all came out as anticipated.

The Dewey-Roosevelt campaign was overshadowed by the same spectre. But vital as the health of FDR was to the nation's welfare, no one dared make it an issue. Even a hint by one newspaper of the desirability of an impartial medical examination was violently attacked as a smear.

In the course of that campaign, the writer of this column assembled some simple figures. It is important to recall them now, for in Republican circles a good deal of intense interest is developing about a vice-presidential candidate, in case Vandenberg, MacArthur or some other three-score-plus candidate is selected for president.

The increasing burden of the presidency since Lincoln has been reflected in the life span of the men who have held the office. The average life span of the first 15 presidents was approximately 74. The average for the 16 presidents beginning with Lincoln has been approximately 63. This computing does not include the incumbent, but it does include the only living ex-President, Herbert Hoover hale and hearty at nearly 74.

The drop in the life span of our presidents has, it should be noted, been running against the rise in the national average. The national life expectancy in 1900 was 49.2. In 1945, it was 65.8.

It is obvious that all that science has discovered and devised in protecting health is at the service of a president. Food, sanitation, air-conditioning and medical attention have improved. But the pressure of official duties has overwhelmed all these defenses.

This point is reinforced by another set of facts. We have been electing younger men. The average age of the first 15 presidents, at the time they assumed office, was approximately 57, of the next 16, approximately 51. Thus, the more recent presidents have undertaken the burden at an age better calculated to bear it. Despite that, they have died sooner.

Another factor looms large in these grim considerations. In the event that a president suffers the sad fate of a physical collapse short of death, there is no provision in law to determin what the Constitution calls his "inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office." Thus, in the case of Woodrow Wilson, it was a misfortune to the nation as well as to the victim himself. It is hardly necessary to add that total incapacity is more likely to attack an older man.

The considerations presented here are offered because of a tendency on the part of commentators recently to talk about oldster-youngster tickets. This suggestion is extremely unpleasant in its connotations.

Moreover, the people thus suggested as stand-in vice presidents should, but seemingly do not, repudiate the plan. The idea of a young vice-president is suggested as insurance. But we want a president, not an insurance policy.

The answer is the nomination of a man under 60 who has demonstrated by vigorous campaigning that he can stand the gaff. Taft, Dewey and Stassen answer that need. And if we have to have a dark horse, let us pick a young one.

'Happiest Man' Was Poor

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M remembering the happiest man I ever knew. He wasn't rich. To the contrary he was the poorest man in our small town. He lived in some remote shanty on side the town and he came into the village infrequently.

Everyone knew him although he had no particular friends. Everyone liked him although he performed no particular service. His only possessions, as far as we knew, were two old mules whom he regarded with great affection and respect.

This sounds like a lonely sort of life. But he wasn't lonely. He was happy. He was always happy.

He must have been fairly old when I first met him for he was gray haired then but he was happy too. He must have lived on meager fare. The few vegetables he grubbed from his bit of land. But the good earth was all he needed. Now and then he bought a loaf of bread but usually he divided it with a group of tattered urchins.

I remembered seeing him lying in the grass at times, playing as happily as a child, or charming some small bird with a home made flute.

He was an utterly irresponsible person. You could never count on what he would do or where he would be. But no one ever reckoned him as an idiot or simple minded. For he would gather us around him and tell us the old tales which I now know to be the great classics.

A strange man. I never knew where he was born or when or where he died. To me he was always just Happy Jack. And to me still he is always the same Happy Jack.

Years later I read of another man who followed such a course in life—not a tramp but a highly cultured gentleman, Henry David Thoreau who wrote "Walden," and I envied them both and their happy freedom. They had learned to live without Things. They were free as the air and as happy as birds.

We clutter our lives with so many things. We clutter our hearts with so many things. We confuse our lives with so many emotions that we do not know whether we are coming or going.

What a pity it is! How wonderful it would be to be just simple for a little while—just Happy Jacks without any particular vocation!

(Copr. by 1948)

Goss Warns of Dust Bowl Return

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Albert Goss, master of the National Grange, bluntly warned President Truman the other day that we are inviting another "dust bowl" disaster unless we begin redeveloping the grasslands of the West.

"I have just returned from a trip to Wyoming and can tell you that the dangers are very real," reported Goss. "There has been too much plowing up of the grasslands we developed as insurance against future dust storms."

The grange leader, who is the ablest spokesman in Washington, explained that the high prices and demand for wheat for domestic and foreign aid were chiefly responsible, since farmers didn't want to maintain pasture lands when they could turn a quick profit on grain crops.

"Most people take it for granted that we have licked the dust-bowl hazard which caused such tragedy in the west some years back," added Goss. "However, dust can blow again, and will blow in my opinion within the next few years unless those grasslands are restored."

Hitler's Bankers.

IT HASN'T been noticed in the welter of international news but two of Hitler's former bankers have now been able to move back into power in Germany.

They are Herman J. Abs and August Schniewind who have been named president and chairman, respectively, of the board of directors for the new tri-zonal Bank Deutsche Leander (Bank of the German States). This bank operates under the U. S., French and British, but the German board members were allowed to make their selection at a secret meeting.

Because of the growing U. S. policy of forgiving the nazis, nothing was done to block the two bankers, but the whole thing was explained to Secretary of State George Marshall in a confidential airgram, sent by U. S. political adviser Robert Murphy.

"Proceedings of that meeting not made public," Murphy radioed the Secretary of State, "but there are indications that vote on Abs was 7 to 4 and vote on Schniewind was 8 to 3 . . . No easy method exists for determining what voting really was, since customarily German meetings are secret."

Herr Abs was a director of the Deutsche Bank and Herr Schniewind was a director of the Reichsbank under Hitler.

In his confidential airgram, Murphy reported: "Although (Abs) apparently never was an NSDAP (nazi) member, he cooperated hand in glove during the Third Reich with leading political personalities in government, industry and party circles. Abs obtained special permission of the Reichs Wirtschafts Ministerium to hold an excess of 20 directorships, a limit established by the corporation law of 1937."

"He became prominent in 1937 as chief of foreign department of Deutsche Bank, and was in many circles considered to be the most brilliant and energetic member of Deutsche Bank's vorstand (board of directors). Subject took important role in imperialistic expansion of Deutsche Bank following nazi political and military absorption."

Herr Schniewind recently appointed liaison officer for the European Recovery Program was a director of the Reichsbank under Hjalmar Schacht until Schacht fell into disfavor with the nazis. Then Schniewind, still a nazi favorite, moved to Seiler and Company, a banking firm in Munich, where he increased in influence as the bank was "Aryanized."

Seven other German bankers, all with democratic political backgrounds, were considered along with Abs and Schniewind for the banking posts. But the two nazi sympathizers won out.

Murphy hinted to Secretary Marshall that the British were to blame for Abs.

Significantly the Allied Bank Commission could veto the two German bankers, but reports from Germany indicate it will do the opposite.

No Piano.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN always takes great delight in inaugurating the "buddy poppy" relief drive of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. For, back in Missouri, he used to help put over the drive as a VFW member himself.

The other day when Truman received the first poppy from five-year-old Sandra Marie Smith, he reached in his pocket and handed his tiny visitor a bright, new half-dollar.

"Oh, thank you," replied the little girl, who lives at the VFW home for war widows and orphans in Eaton Rapids, Michigan. "And now, will you play the piano?"

The President laughingly replied that he would be glad to accommodate, but unfortunately there was no piano in his office.

Assignment: America

Protests GOP Humor

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Now I don't mind telling you that sooner or later, these dad-blamed Republicans are going to go too far!

Understand, personally, I'm not anti-Republican. Actually, I'm a mugwump. That is to say, my father was a Democrat and my mother a Republican, but even when they cancelled one another's ballots, they always went out and voted.

As a result, I'm open to conviction, either way, but there's a limit to the sort of thing I'm going to swallow . . .

Now, as you may well know, for some time the publicity people of the Grand Old Party have been putting out a publication entitled "The Republican News." Not a bad little sheet, either. Some of my best friends work on it.

Every now and then, as 1948 grows older, they come up with some mighty cute campaign gems. For instance, recently they published a verse entitled "Imitation of a New Dealer." It went like this:

"Hush, little deficit . . .
"Don't you cry.
"You'll be a crisis,
"By and by."

Now, I've got a sense of humor, like everybody else, and I get a kick outa that sort of thing. Also, I thought it was a good gag when they printed that "The general opinion is that Truman is behind the forty-eight ball."

* * *

'Democrat Dime'

The same thing goes for their definition of a "Democrat Dime." They say it's "a dollar with the taxes taken out." Also, referring to the recent ruckus in Democratic ranks, they say that the slogan of the Jackson Day dinners was "Eat, drink—and beat Harry!"

Now that sort of policy certainly is going to win readers, even if it doesn't influence voters. And don't be too sure that it won't. After all, slogans and the like usually play a considerable part in our presidential elections.

The boys termed Washington (under Democratic administration, of course) as "The City Bureauful." And at least they displayed selective reading in digging up Mark Twain's old definition of bureaucracy as "fifty thousand ants goin' down the Mississippi on a log—every blamed one of 'em thinks he's steerin'."

Now, like I say, any right-minded person enjoys reading that sort of thing, regardless of which side he's on. But even so, it's possible to go too far, and it seems to me that the boys have done just that.

In this last edition of their Republican paper, they've come up gleefully with a story about some alleged membership fraud in the young Democrats organization of New Mexico. It seems that one of the units of the outfit is accused of padding its membership, thereby being able to elect one of its candidates state chairman.

Now I'm not going to enter into any intra-mural arguments on the question of whether or not the accusations are true. Frankly, it's none of my business.

But it so happens that I did live and work several years in New Mexico in bygone days, and I can say quite truthfully that I never knew of an election when the voting lists weren't somewhat padded and the ballot boxes weren't somewhere stuffed.

As a matter of fact, we had a saying in those days. It went something like this: "No election without investigation!"

Being non-partisan, I'm not so concerned with the Republican slurs on the New Mexico Democrats as I am with their slurs on New Mexico as a state. As a matter of court-recorded fact, those same pastimes have proved popular in such places as Georgia and Missouri even during the last election not to mention about forty-five other states.

In short, why pick on New Mexico Democrats when everybody's doing it.

Farmer's Diary

For Thinking People

By CALVIN A. BYERS

MY WIFE and I have just finished reading and talking over the preliminary draft of a World Constitution, as proposed and signed by Robert M. Hutchins, G. A. Borgese, Mortimer J. Adler, Stringfellow Barr, Albert Guerard, Harold A. Innis, Erich Kahler, Wilber G. Katz, Chas. H. Mellwain, Robert Redfield and Rexford G. Tugwell. When a farmer and his wife consider a subject like that, it is news. (If enough folks consider it thoughtfully it will be BIG news.)

The report of the committee to frame a world constitution is contained in the monthly publication, Common Cause, which came into existence July 1947. This March issue is dedicated to Gandhi, who is hailed as the precursor of world government based on justice, work and peace. This short evaluation of the "little brown man" who spanned the continents with his teachings of love and truth is one of the finest tributes I have ever read. A few sentences stand out . . .

"Rare was that simpleness of thought and talk in a heyday of sophistry and baroque, strange were the ritual silences in a generation of screamers and ritual fasting in a society of hungerers and revelers, the spinning wheel amidst the din of the machines, prayer in the era of arrogance, the loincloth. That he was unafraid of jail or death does not single him out. But he was unconcerned also about laughter."

"The honorable men who killed Caesar learned soon that they had laid down the flesh and raised to perpetuity the spirit. Through 2000 years, whoever aspired . . . to world leadership called himself a Caesar.

"The model left by Gandhi is better. It is the power of justice as manifest in peace. Who ever will deserve to be World President will be an heir to Gandhi, a Mahatma, which means the magnanimous, august."

Then follows a plan for world government, submitted as a basis of thought and action, not a finished plan, merely a starting point based on the rights of man.

I am sure that students of history, everywhere, in every nation, will find inspiration in this work. (For subscriptions and advertising address Business Manager, Common Cause, 975 E. 60th St., Chicago 37, Ill.)

"It does not follow that coming developments must be measured on the tempo of the previous process. Emergencies become emergencies; century plants flower overnight.

"Whitehead wrote: 'We notice that a great idea in the background of dim consciousness is like a phantom ocean beating upon the shores of human life in successive waves . . . as dreams slowly doing their work of sapping the base of some cliff of habit . . . but the seventh wave is a revolution—'and the nations echo round.'"

Portrait of a Young New Yorker

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK. The Young Thing With Bangs settled herself at the corner table in Colombo's steakhouse off Second avenue. She had a dark purple crepe dress on and a bright green scarf around her neck. Isadora Duncan style, and the black coat around her shoulders was like a coachman's.

There was an inkspot or a bit of mustard spread on her eyelashes and the pancake make-up on her lovely moon-like face was four times heavier than the law would allow, say, in Cleveland or Akron. Joe the waiter dropped a couple of scorecards in front of us. She took her long dark hair, placed her elbows symmetrically on the table and stared at me intently. The Young Thing With Bangs was 19.

"Well, you're so-and-so," she said. "Isn't it thrilling?" "Isn't what thrilling?" I asked dubiously.

"Oh, just being here in New York!" she exclaimed, clasping and unclasping her hands like Bob Feller rubbing a new baseball.

"Well," I said, "I hadn't thought of it that way, but I suppose it is."

She drew a cigaret from her package and held it up enticingly to me to light. I thought that gesture went out with Clara Bow, but I came through like a little man with my lighter and she blew the smoke through the bright red mouth like bubble gum.

"There are so many things I want to do here before I die," she said.

"Like what?" I asked.

"You know—things! I've wanted to come to New York for so long and now I'm here—this is MY town, you know!"

I managed to catch Joe's eye and I signaled for a beer a little hesitatingly before Carmen, around to her with a pepsi-cola.

"Have you been to the top of the Empire State building?" I inquired. She should not.

"Oh, isn't that how they keep the planes from bumping into it?" she asked. "How dangerous can one get? NO ONE just go out during wars THERE!" I frowned [illegible]. "I don't know," she [illegible]. She patted my hand. "We're [illegible] Would you like to [illegible]?"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"Go ahead, dear . . . read your paper."

"You funny man," she said. "Listen, I hate to ask this, but Mr. Pannelli, the landlord, wants the rent and—well, could you let me have five until next week?" At this precise, dramatic moment, Swifty O'Brien walked into Colombo's.

"[illegible]," she said, [illegible] "we'll [illegible] at the [illegible]." I looked and [illegible] the Young Thing With Bangs and [illegible] and [illegible] Carefully I said [illegible] "What did you say your name was by the way?"

[illegible] she said. I tipped my hat and left.

Voters Favor Daylight Time

AKRON — (INS — Akron's city council in a special session today are acting on a proposal to set 2 a. m. Sunday for advancing clocks an hour.

A referendum vote on the daylight saving time question carried in Tuesday's election 30,908 to 26,186.

Under a charter amendment which becomes effective when the vote is certified by the Summit county board of elections, the last Sundays in April and September are the dates for shifting time for summer and winter in the rubber city.

WANDA TIPPER BECOMES BRIDE IN CHURCH RITE

Mr. and Mrs. Leland E. Crownover Travel to Chicago for Honeymoon; Will Reside Here.

MISS WANDA TIPPER, R. D. 4, and Leland E. Crownover, 375½ North Mulberry street, were married Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church by the Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. C. Faught and Mr. Crownover's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Obed Crownover.

A gray suit with pink accessories composed the bride's wedding ensemble. With this she wore an orchid corsage. Her sister, Mrs. Walter Lee Mapes jr., was the matron of honor. She wore a pink suit and light blue accessories and her corsage was made of white sweetpeas and pink roses.

Emery Crownover served as best man.

After a reception attended by the immediate families the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago. They will reside at the North Mulberry street address temporarily after their return to Mansfield.

Mrs. Crownover is a graduate of Madison high school and is employed in the advertising department of the Ohio Brass company. Her husband was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is now attending Ashland college.

Two Social Sororities Honor Mothers With Parties Thursday

MANY SORORITIES and church groups are honoring their mothers in keeping with the observance of Mother's day, but two of the most recent were held Thursday by Tri Gamma members and Omega Tau Gamma group.

Delta chapter members of Tri Gamma feted their mothers with a luncheon at the Women's Club. Twenty-five were served at small tables which were dainty with arrangements of spring flowers. Mrs. J. P Keith was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lowell Moore. Spring flowers also decorated the gifts which were presented to the honorees.

Mrs. Keith gave a toast to the mothers and the response to the daughters was in the form of two poems which had been written by Mrs. Edith Jolley, and read by Mrs. H. R. Fiedler.

Games were the diversion of the afternoon with prizes awarded to Mrs. C. L. Hartenfels, Mrs. Willard Murphy and Mrs. H. F. Shover.

The next meeting of the sorority will be on May 13 with a dinner party at the Southern hotel.

* * *

Members of Omega Tau Gamma honored their mothers with a dinner at the Sky Club Thursday evening. Mrs. Robert Woodard, president, welcomed the mothers and Mrs. Earl Etzwiler gave a toast to them. The response was given by her mother, Mrs. William Frickman.

The origin of Mother's day was given by Mrs. Gail Shaffer and a reading, "Mother's Day," was read by Mrs. Forrest Pittenger. At the close of the evening the members presented their mothers with a carnation from the centerpiece. The table was attractive with a bouquet of red carnations and white snapdragons and tall white lighted tapers.

The next regular meeting will be held in the clubrooms, YMCA, on May 14. Informal initiation will be conducted at that time with Mrs. Edward Osgar and Mrs. Marie Weisbauer in charge. Hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Kurtz, Mrs. Elmer Walters, Mrs. Harry Bowman and Mrs Frederick Antrican.

Guests Attend Rebekah Lodge Meeting

Miriam Rebekah lodge, No. 388, IOOF, held its regular meeting Wednesday evening at the Odd Fellow hall. Mrs. Howard Markley, noble grand, presided for the business session which opened at 7:30 p. m.

Seventeen members of Ashland Rebekah lodge, six from New London, six from Waterford, and eight from Bellville, all of District No. 23 of Ohio Rebekah assembly, attended this meeting.

District representative, Mrs. Morgan Hartman of New London, and district president, Mrs. George Heuss of this city, were present. It was announced that the Ohio State Rebekah assembly will hold its annual assembly at Akron the week of May 9.

The visiting committee for the local lodge appointed by Mrs. Markley, grand noble, are Mrs. Earl Beamer and Mrs. Clark Moser. The charter was draped, during a memorial service, for Mrs. Esther Spayde.

After lodge session, Mrs. Heuss presided for a short business meeting of the district. This was followed by a luncheon. The school of instruction for District No. 23 will be held in Mansfield, June 2, Odd Fellow hall.

Last In Series of Music Week Programs To Be Given Tonight

CLOSING a successful week of musical programs, which was Mansfield's way of observing National Music week, will be the miscellaneous program given tonight at John Simpson junior high school auditorium at 8 p. m.

Guest arrist, for the entertainment to be given by Music Study club members, will be Lewis Girton of Galion, talented tenor.

Mrs. K. E. Buhr is chairman for the evening.

The opening number will be "Quartet 42 Allegro Movement" by Haydn, played by the string ensemble. Their second selection will be "Softly As In a Morning Sunrise" by Romberg. Mrs. Scott Brown is first violinist, Mrs. Joseph Pival, second violinist; Mrs. H. F. Plaut, viola; Mrs. Thomas Zaugg, cellist, with Mrs. J. Raitch as accompanist.

Girton's numbers will be "I Am Thy Heart" by Woodman; "My Love Is a Blossom" by Genet; "The Last Hour" by Kramer, and "Love's Philosophy" by Quilter.

Mrs. Margaret Hall and Miss Thelma Reed, noted duo-piano team, will favor with "Nocturne" by Rachmaninoff; "Ritmo" by Infante, and three preludes by Gershwin.

Joseph Pival, popular violinist, will play "The Souvenier de Moscou" by Wieniewsk, and "The Serenade" by Riley.

Closing selections will be by the Mansfield Choral society, under the direction of Frederick Wolf. Their numbers are "Dawn" by Curran; "Were You There" by Burleigh; "America, the Beautiful" by Ward, and "Country Style" by Van Heusen.

This program will conclude a series of six which were presented by youngsters and adults from Mansfield and Madison township.

Legion Mothers To Have Luncheon

Mrs. James Brownscombe, president of the American Legion auxiliary, was a guest at the meeting of the American Legion Mothers club Wednesday at the Legion home. Eight members were present for the covered dish dinner at noon. The afternoon was spent in putting a quilt in a frame.

The group have planned to drive to the Saltzgaber cottage, Mifflin, on May 21 for a covered dish dinner. Members are to meet at the Legion home at 10 a. m.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, May 8.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE lunar transits ruling on this day point to the advisability of making it a time of relaxation and diversion since there is but little encouragement of furthering anything of an ambitious or constructive nature. Working along lines of least resistance is the formula in such static or congested state of affairs. Postpone, take it easy, care for the physical would be a sounder investment than trying to force lagging or blocked issues.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may find things moving along at a snail's pace with obstacle frustrations, delays and lack of making the grade no matter what the investment of effort, vitality and resources.

The inertia or stagnation in affairs might be attributable to lowered physical energies or initiative, to slow mental processes or to the general static and retrograde aspect of affairs at large.

A child born on this day may be serious, slow going, indisposed to overcome obstacles or to tackle the affairs of life with any show of energy or determination. It may see the world through the eyes of an introvert.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Baku Grotto auxiliary held a business meeting last night at the Grotto hall with Mrs. Clyde Long presiding. Plans for a rummage sale for the near future were discussed. Anyone that wishes to contribute to this sale will please get in touch with Mrs. Long or Mrs. William Knight.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Knight at a late hour. The next meeting will be May 20 with the place announced later.

LIMA LADY LOSES 88½ POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE
Mrs. C. M. Wright, 124 West 5th St., loses weight without dieting.

"I have tried many reducing preparations but nothing ever helped me until I tried Rennel" writes Mrs. Wright. "Since I started taking Rennel I have eaten as much as I wanted and anything that I wanted yet I have lost weight and feel much better than I have in ten years. Before taking Rennel my excess weight kept me tired out all of the time. I am so happy that I tried Rennel because the other products that I have tried didn't help me at all. My druggist recommended Rennel to me and I wouldn't be without it."

Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple, go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle, take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen hips, calves and ankles; just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel, no starvation diet, no printed diet list to buy, no expensive vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry.

FACTS ABOUT Cochran House Paint

IT is a well known fact that five years ago we discontinued the manufacture and sale of Cochran House Paint. Our reason for doing this was that due to the war shortages we could not manufacture a high grade paint such as Cochran House Paint and we would not put a Cochran House Paint label on what has become commonly known as a "War House Paint."

The war has been over for several years, but up to this time it has been impossible to get the necessary raw materials to manufacture Cochran House Paint. We are getting the raw materials now and we are again manufacturing and offering Cochran House Paint for sale.

It has been a long time since the general public has been able to purchase a pre-war high grade house paint, with few exceptions, and it will be a revelation to almost anyone to see and use Cochran House Paint.

Cochran House Paint will do everything expected of a high grade house paint. It has the hiding power, easy brushing qualities and will wear as long as could be rightly expected of a high grade house paint.

By withdrawing Cochran House Paint from the market —our largest selling product—for a period of over five years, because we could not manufacture a house paint up to the Cochran standard, we believe that we have proven beyond the slightest question of a doubt that the name Cochran on a paint label really means something and that something is quality.

Wallace Fails In His Attempt To Keep Cult Associations Dark

SOME of Henry Wallace's adherents have acknowledged his implication in the Roerich cult to the extent of saying "Yes, Henry believes in God. What of it?"

It was impossible for Wallace to deny his involvement. The records of the departments of state and agriculture, of the New York Supreme Court and of the internal revenue would make a liar of him.

That is why he tried to ignore the goofy Guru letters transmitted to Nicholas Roerich and collateral gibberish which reflect a peculiar mental condition in the writer, whoever the writer was.

It was not a helpful service to say "Yes, Henry believes in God. What of it?" Because the god involved here was Nicholas Roerich, the Russian painter, magician, table-tapper, snake-charmer, Guru pundit, swami, and hypnotist.

★

Louis Horch, Wallace's friend and associate in esoteric adventure, finally admitted that he and others thought Roerich was God. But Henry can't admit that. He looks silly enough already. Still the Guru letters which turned up in the 1940 campaign certainly indicated a like delusion on the part of their author. They were "attributed" to Wallace at the time and caused a great commotion in Democratic national headquarters.

Wallace has tried to settle the question by ignoring it to death. But he can't get away with that because records exist which prove that he showed a silly faith in the squinty-eyed, politico-mystical moocher by ignoring and bypassing the state department.

The state department had a long record on Roerich, and, if consulted, would have rejected him as a representative of the United States in a foreign land.

Wallace sent him to China and Inner Mongolia ostesibly to collect grass seed but actually on a mission to mess in Asiatic politics and strut his seeming of divinity, which appears not to have impressed the Orientals as deeply as it impressed a lot of parvenus and political bleeding hearts on Riverside drive, New York.

The state department notified several of its men in Asia not to bespeak any consideration for Roerich because he was not an American and we did not guarantee his intentions.

Nevertheless, Roerich and his son, George, went their way for Wallace, first to Japan, then to Manchuria, on credentials from the department of agriculture.

These paper might impress an occasional baggage porter, but politics was rife in Asia and alert skeptics observed at a glance that the Guru was traveling on box-tops and soap-wrappers.

Although neither Pop nor George was represented to be a botanist, Wallace put Pop on a payroll for $5,600 a year and George for $4,600 plus expenses. Long afterward when he thought he was safe from exposure, Wallace admitted that he had hoped to achieve a permanent place in history through his sponsorship of ceremonies in Washington in November, 1933, known as the third international convention of the Roerich pact and banner of peace. This was a publicity hoax. Wallace not only fell for it, but put F. D. Roosevelt into it as a stooge for the Guru's press agent.

Letter Scheme Used In Italian Election Impresses Yugoslavs

TIT FOR TAT—This is what comes from telling the Italians how to vote. . . . Tit for tat. . . . Tut for tut. . . . Young Americans are receiving bulletins from a youth movement in Yugoslavia asking youthful Americans to swap letters with Yugoslav youth . . . Tito's "Youth Movement" also requests "names of your young friends" so they can be reached from Yugoslavia . . . You may confirm this by contacting Oscar Gavrilovich, former Yugoslav Consul-Gen. in N. Y.

Lawyers for convicted Gen. Benny Meyers are telling intimates that when the case comes up for appeal many bigwigs will be involved. Also when "all the facts are made known the General will be exonerated . . . The Civil Liberties Union will contest the anti-Communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley bill in the high court. The brief is now being prepared by Asher Lang . . . The diplomatic vine hears that Peron wants to annex the Falkland Islands. Britain holds a protectorate over them. The ensuing squabble should give the State Dept. a new crop of headaches . . . This explains Britain's attitude toward the Palestine warriors. When I saw Lord Beaverbrook last, I asked what I could do to help stop the killing of another Englishman or Jew. He looked out a window and said: "Where the wealth is the power is—and the Arabs have all the wealth."

All those rumbles about Italy's ex-King Umberto tunnel down to this: He is in Portugal writing the memoirs of his pappy from some diaries the old gent forgot to burn . . . The Army order for a million shirts (and pants) says emergency on it . . . Margaret O'Brien, the movie star, expects a little cousin via the John Bogues, Mrs. B. being her Aunt Marissa, a lovely thing to look at . . . At Chasen's the other night the former heavyweight champion of the world (Dempsey) devoured lady fingers covered with chocolate syrup and ice cream. You just couldn't believe your eyes . . . The Brooklyn joint which called itself the Stalk Club (and then had a stickup) closed . . . Has Branch Rickey a bodyguard? I dunno, that's what it says here . . . You'd be surprised at the number of bets that Joe Louis won't remain head man.

★

Quite a thing at the meeting of the mag and newspaper distributors. Mr. Haskell (in stressing that the public could be best informed by closely studying the news in the better papers) attacked the blatherings of radio commentators, et al (Hiya, Al!). He then extolled Russia, pointing out that there was "a great deal of misinformation about that country." Mr. Haskell was attacked by the next speaker and the audience was aghast . . . Correction: Last week's memos item about defense plans considering switching from Mitchel Field to one in the Midwest, should have said Tinker Field, Okla., not Tindall, which is in Fla.

Personal Tax Funds Allocated

Revenue Gains $69,000 Over 1947

Richland county's subdivisions will receive $318,448 in first-half 1948 personal tax funds, about $69,000 more than last year, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today.

Checks to townships, corporations, and school districts for the amount of the settlement have been put in the mail. Collections included $180,016 in general tax collections and $138,432 in classified taxes.

Wolfe attributed the increase in the classified taxes, to increased dividends and more taxpayers.

The spurt in general personal tax collections was due, Wolfe said, to the increased value of inventories, farm products and farm equipment, factory equipment and machinery.

The distribution follows:

Richland county, $49,216; libraries, Mansfield, $21,500; Shelby, $6,500.

School districts — Savannah, Ashland county, $845; Shiloh, $1,731; Bellville, $2,696; Lucas, $1,261; Mifflin, $858; Madison, $11,369; Mansfield, $69,603; Plymouth, $5,735; Springfield, $1,750; Sharon, $560; Shelby, $15,760; Lexington, $2,174; Butler, $1,466; Union, $2,428.

Corporations — Mansfield, $61,-351; Shiloh, $195; Bellville, $572; Lucas, $275; South Boulevards, $77; Plymouth, $2,013; Shelby, $20,814; Lexington, $677; Butler, $689.

Townships — Bloominggrove, $241; Butler, $387; Cass, $175; Franklin, $196; Jackson, $230; Jefferson, $391; Monroe, $298; Mifflin, $174; Madison, $2,884; Perry, $163; Plymouth, $887; Springfield, $262; Sandusky, $187; Sharon, $431; Troy, $319; Worthington, $322; Weller, $295; Washington, $8,169.

600 Hear Lecturer

Approximately 600 persons last night heard a lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Promised Comforter," by Ralph E. Wagens, CSB, of Chicago, in the John Simpson auditorium. The lecture was sponsored by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mansfield.

The lecturer said, in part:

"A Christian Science lecture often encourages a listener to become better acquainted with the Bible; particularly with the first four books of the New Testament. These books record the life history of Christ Jesus, a life which was so important to humanity that it brought forth a new calendar.

"Jesus recognized that he had a particular work to finish, and he finished it. A part of his work was to prepare thought for a fuller unfoldment of Christ, Truth. Fulfilling the prophecy concerning himself, he forged another link in the chain of prophetic promise: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter.'

"In order for the Comforter to fulfill its divine mission and accomplish the greater works to which Jesus referred, it was essential that human thought become spiritually receptive. But this thought must be prepared to think scientifically as well, in order to gain the more impersonal sense of God as divine Principle and of man as divine idea."

SAM YOUNG, county milk inspector, tests milk samples

Hedge Apple Tests Boost Milk Supply

By MARGUERITE MILLER

The man who helps protect Mansfield's milk supply is winning recognition throughout the middle west with his milking parlor and his experiments with hedge apples.

Sam Young makes pure milk his profession and hobby. His ideas on how to maintain healthier milk-producing herds have already come to the attention of Ohio State university's agriculture department which will conduct an experiment with hedge-apples next fall.

Agriculture colleges as far west as Nebraska have adopted his "milking parlor," which he recalled was labeled "a crazy idea" by skeptics a few years back.

It's not unusual then that Young, who contends he was the first dairy inspector to recognize udder trouble or mastitis and its effect upon Richland county's milk supply, is no eight-hour-a-day man.

Frequently the lights in Young's health department office burn long past midnight. Raw milk samples, taken from five supplying counties as well as from all city dairies are given the mastitis test until Young is satisfied the experiment is complete.

HUNTS 'TROUBLE AREAS'

This is the first step in Young's crusade for productive cows. The next morning finds him on the road to the farms from which milk tested "unsatisfactory."

After looking over the stables where the animals are kept, examining the cattle and inquiring about their diet from the farmers, Young is usually able to make a diagnosis of the trouble.

The test given all Richland county milk is one of the best known — the menthylene blue test. One cubic centimeter of menthylene blue is dropped into 10 cc's of milk. Each test is made in a separate tube, marked with the number of the producer. Next step is the incubation of the now bluish milk in water maintained at 98 and three-fifths degrees Fahrenheit.

While pasteurization takes care of germs in the milk, the test provides a "clearing-house" through which the good milk producers are separated from the diseased.

Point of the test is for the milk to "stand-up" or retain the bluish cast nine hours after the methylene blue is added. Young says 92 per cent of the county's supply stands this test "which is very good." Among the other eight per cent are found indications of mastitis, which lowers a cow's efficiency to between 22 and 25 per cent of maximum.

"Ninety per cent of udder trouble is due to improper stabling. I don't think we'll ever be rid of it because a little cold in the cow's udder can start it," Young stated.

"By improper stabling I mean cows resting on cement floors. Cold cement is no bed for cattle which are sensitive to temperature and which represent big investments for the farmers.

"I believe the separate milking parlor is the answer. There cows may be rotated through and then led back to their stalls."

USES STRAW

A visit to a farm just southwest of Mansfield where the owner took Young's advice proved the dairy inspector's point. The complete lower floor of the barn was concrete, but covered with a six-inch layer of straw. Cattle were free to move as they pleased in the enclosure and were still assured of a warm bed if they laid down. Just off, and opening from the stable was the snow-white milking parlor, concrete from floor to ceiling and containing three stanchions, through which the large herd was rotated for rapid milking.

"We haven't had a sign of udder trouble since we put straw on that floor and built in this milking room," the farmer said, "and we're getting better milk production right along."

That same farmer, Young said, lost several hundred dollars a couple of years ago when his herd developed udder trouble.

Once in a while, Young runs across something puzzling as was the case last fall when one test tube of milk kept consistently absorbing all blue coloring in two to three hours.

Young made a visit to the farm. Mastitis had never been found in the milk supply there before. The barn and all surroundings seemed perfect for healthy cattle. More tests were made on the spot—all with the same discouraging results.

As Young drove from the farm, he noticed several cows near a hedge-apple tree in the corner of the pasture. An idea struck him. If the cows were eating the fruit—excess acidity in the milk could have made the milk change quickly.

ELIMINATES TROUBLE

He drove back to the farm. The farmer hadn't noticed his cows eating the hedgeapples, but promised that he'd get rid of the tree. By the end of the week, the milk from that farm was again back to its old standard of a nine-hour test. The hedgeapple tree was gone—along with a loss of several hundred pounds of milk.

Subsequent contacts with highly acid milk from farms where hedgeapple trees were growing made Young do more investigating. Every time the trees were removed, the milk came back up to standard.

Young reported it to the OSU agriculture department heads who were surprised to hear of the cases. Next fall the university hopes to find more data on the power of the little hedgeapple and its effect on the health of the milk-producing cow.

'Rebellion' Short-Lived

Senior High Pupils Stage Brief Protest

Self-branded "convicts" became reconciled to studen life again at Senior high school today, signaling an end to a good-natured protest against a faculty crackdown on class skippers.

The "rebellion" was marked yesterday by pupils wearing signs on their backs, reading "Convict No.——" and chalked messages on some classroom doors reading "Cell Block 9145" or "Warden-Visiting Room."

Ladders used by workmen on a redecorating job were confiscated by boys who set them up in locker sections and chanted, "I went over the top."

The "rebellion" was short-lived. Detention slips handed out freely discouraged its continuance.

Rigid enforcement of rules for release of pupils from classrooms were the cause. Long in effect, the rules were ordered stringently observed Wednesday.

They require that no pupil trespass in the corridors during class hours unless he carry a permit signed by a teacher.

Pupils sent on errands by teachers are given yellow slips. Pupils wishing to leave the school building for any valid reason are given a "blue" excuse signed by Miss Pearl Danback or Herman Bishop. These include pupils usually dismissed early to fill part-time jobs.

Faculty members, as well as pupils, took the "rebellion" in good humor.

State Reply To Tax Request Due

Mansfield's application for tax exemption of the Clear Fork reservoir site should be answered by the state "in a week or so," City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said today.

Kalbfleisch said a correction in the application had been given a hearing by the state board, after the errors were rectified by himself and Charles C. Payne, county treasurer.

Correction of the first application, he said, was necessary due to an error in making out the form.

MUSHROOM RING—

An unexpected memento of early circus days near Butler was found the other day by Clem J. Harmon when he went mushroom hunting near the "Pickle bridge" on the Butler road. Deep in the woods Harmon found a mushroom with a huge ring around it. On the metal ring are inscribed the words "J. G. Tarver, Texas giant." Oldtimers in the area say the ring once belonged to a circus giant by that name who came to the area one summer. The ring is large enough to hold a half dollar within its circle.

LEAVING CITY—

Today is the last day in Mansfield for the family of Rev. Albert L. Linder. Today they are moving to their new home at 650 Bryson street, Youngstown. It has been a busy week for Mrs. Linder, sorting and packing clothes and furniture in preparation for the big moving vans today. Although Rev. Linder has been in Youngstown since April 1, Mrs. Linder and their three children have remained here in the parsonage of the Park Avenue Baptist church until Rev. Linder could obtain a home. He is Protestant leader for 2,400 Youngstown college students.

Mrs. Eggert Dies In Galion

Mrs. Lenna A. Eggert, 67, widow of John M. Eggert, of 308 West Fifth street, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Mortland, 501 North Columbus street, Galion, early today. Death followed an extended illness.

Born near Olena in Huron county, Oct. 23, 1880, Mrs. Eggert lived in Greenwich before coming to Mansfield in 1898. She had lived here since that time. Her husband died Jan. 13, 1945.

Mrs. Eggert was a member of the First Evangelical UB church, Mansfield Tent No. 130 Maccabees, Mansfield Review No. 77 Women's Benefit association, and was a past councilor of the Lady Garfield Council No. 24, Daughters of America.

Surviving, besides her daughter, are one son, Efflo Eggert of Columbus, and four grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m., at the Finefrock funeral home with Rev. N. R. Somerville, pastor of the First Methodist church in Galion, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Aged Daughter Of Slaves Dies

Mrs. Jemima Seal, the daughter of slaves and believed to have been more than 100 years old, died at the home of Mrs. Alma Davis, 117 Lafayette avenue, early today after an extended illness.

Born in Chrenshaw, Ala., Mrs. Seal came to Mansfield 35 years ago. She was a member of the Shiloh Baptist church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Abbie Wheeler of Mansfield; nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. A son, Hilton Davis, died two years ago.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home where friends may call. Arrangements are incomplete.

Board Awaits West Virginian

Mansfield soon may have a new health commissioner, the city health board announced last night at its regular meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Dr. A. C. Biddle has been acting health commissioner since the resignation of Dr. Fred O. Toney, Feb. 1.

"At present we are corresponding with several applicants and hope to select the new commissioner soon," Dr. R. B. Moyer, board member, announced.

"Our biggest problem so far is the salary the position offers of $6,100 a year which is almost the lowest in any county in Ohio," he said.

"One applicant, from West Virginia, a very capable man for the position, is expected any day to visit us. When he arrives the board will call a special meeting for an interview. We are anxious to see the position filled as quickly as possible by a capable physician."

THOUSAND TO ONE

Dr. Moyer also reported to the board on his recent trip to Columbus to attend the regional conference of the National Rat Control program.

"If you see one rat running across the street," Dr. Moyer said, "then you can reasonably estimate that there are probably 1,000 rats in the neighborhood."

"Rats travel in large armies, and one pair of rats, if left to reproduce unhampered, disregarding the death rate, will increase to 150,000 in one year and 359,000,000 in three years."

Rats outnumber the human population in urban areas more than two to one and cost taxpayers $300,000,000 annually, he added. They are probably the worst spreaders of death and disease in the world responsible for the bubonic plague, typhus fever, spirochetal jaundice, food poisoning and rabies or hydrophobia.

A program for rat control in Mansfield is being planned and the health board has asked that every one begin at once to help the program by being extremely careful in disposal of garbage, sealing of cereal and cookie boxes. The only sure way to rid the area of rats is by starvation.

Recorder's Business Up

Fees received in the county recorder's office reached record high in April, Recorder D. D. Orewiler reported yesterday.

Receipts totaled $1,471, compared with $1,273 in March, 1948. Previous peak month was June, 1946, when $1,325.40 was collected.

The spurt in business was attributed to refinancing of mortgages and the buying of homes, Orewiler said. 410 mortgage deeds and 462 warranty deeds were filed, both record highs. The number of chattel mortgages totaled 709.

Joseph Rhodes Dies at 75

Joseph Rhodes, 75, of 290 North Main street, died Thursday at the Hix Rest home on the West Fourth street road following a lingering illness.

He was born March 10, 1873 in Chicago, coming to Mansfield 40 years ago.

He was for several years associated with the Allerding Products company, maker of automobile steering wheels. He has no known urvivors.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home but will be removed to the Volunteers of America chapel, 290 North Main street, for services at 1 p. m. Saturday, in charge of Adj. Richard L. Gutterman of the Volunteers of America. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. The body will remain at the funeral home until time for services.

Pallbearers will be George Chetwood, Henry Wagner, Wilbur Crum, Dale Sullivan, Al Gryzca and Richard Staub.

The Sons fo Italy will hold a family fish fry Friday, beginning at 7 p. m., at the organization's clubrooms, 37½ West Fifth street.

Hearing on South Boulevards Annexation Set For July 7

A petition, calling for annexation of South Boulevards to the city of Mansfield was submitted yesterday to county commissioners. They set a hearing on the petition for 10 a. m. July 7 in their office.

The petition, submitted by C. J. Kalbfleisch, city solicitor, asks that South Boulevards, consisting of 477 lots, be annexed. A copy of the annexation ordinance, voted by city council says the annexation is "subject to being voided by failure or refusal of city council to accept the apportionment of indebtedness and division of funds of South Boulevards."

The ordinance was passed unanimously by council Tuesday night. The commissioners and county auditor now must figure the debt apportionment between the city and Madison townships. The apportionment then goes to city council which must act on the final annexation measure.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe reported today that South Boulevards has an indebtedness of $23,000 in sewer bonds, which mature in 1963. However, only $6,000 worth of the bonds are village debts.

The rest of the debt represents special assessments for sewer lines and is chargeable against the landowners, whether they live in South Boulevards or Mansfield. The indebtedness of the school district would also have to be worked out. South Boulevards presently is in the Madison school district, but on annexation would be in the Mansfield school district.

Wallace Fails In His Attempt To Keep Cult Associations Dark

SOME of Henry Wallace's adherents have acknowledged his implication in the Roerich cult to the extent of saying "Yes, Henry believes in God. What of it?"

It was impossible for Wallace to deny his involvement. The records of the departments of state and agriculture, of the New York Supreme Court and of the internal revenue would make a liar of him.

That is why he tried to ignore the goofy Gurú letters transmitted to Nicholas Roerich and collateral gibberish which reflect a peculiar mental condition in the writer, whoever the writer was.

It was not a helpful service to say "Yes, Henry believes in God. What of it?" Because the god involved here was Nicholas Roerich, the Russian painter, magician, table-tapper, snake-charmer, Guru pundit, swami, and hypnotist.

★

Louis Horch, Wallace's friend and associate in esoteric adventure, finally admitted that he and others thought Roerich was God. But Henry can't admit that. He looks silly enough already. Still the Guru letters which turned up in the 1940 campaign certainly indicated a like delusion on the part of their author. They were "attributed" to Wallace at the time and caused a great commotion in Democratic national headquarters.

Wallace has tried to settle the question by ignoring it to death. But he can't get away with that because records exist which prove that he showed a silly faith in the squinty-eyed, politico-mystical moocher by ignoring and bypassing the state department.

The state department had a long record on Roerich, and, if consulted, would have rejected him as a representative of the United States in a foreign land.

Wallace sent him to China and Inner Mongolia ostesibly to collect grass seed but actually on a mission to mess in Asiatic politics and strut his seeming of divinity, which appears not to have impressed the Orientals as deeply as it impressed a lot of parvenus and political bleeding hearts on Riverside drive, New York.

The state department notified several of its men in Asia not to bespeak any consideration for Roerich because he was not an American and we did not guarantee his intentions.

Nevertheless, Roerich and his son, George, went their way for Wallace, first to Japan, then to Manchuria, on credentials from the department of agriculture.

These paper might impress an occasional baggage porter, but politics was rife in Asia and alert skeptics observed at a glance that the Guru was traveling on box-tops and soap-wrappers.

Although neither Pop nor George was represented to be a botanist, Wallace put Pop on a payroll for $5,600 a year and George for $4,600 plus expenses. Long afterward when he thought he was safe from exposure, Wallace admitted that he had hoped to achieve a permanent place in history through his sponsorship of ceremonies in Washington in November, 1933, known as the third international convention of the Roerich pact and banner of peace. This was a publicity hoax. Wallace not only fell for it, but put F. D. Roosevelt into it as a stooge for the Guru's press agent.

Personal Tax Funds Allocated

Revenue Gains $69,000 Over 1947

Richland county's subdivisions will receive $318,448 in first-half 1948 personal tax funds, about $69,000 more than last year, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today.

Checks to townships, corporations, and school districts for the amount of the settlement have been put in the mail. Collections included $180,016 in general tax collections and $138,432 in classified taxes.

Wolfe attributed the increase in the classified taxes, to increased dividends and more taxpayers.

The spurt in general personal tax collections was due, Wolfe said, to the increased value of inventories, farm products and farm equipment, factory equipment and machinery.

The distribution follows:

Richland county, $49,216; libraries, Mansfield, $21,500; Shelby, $6,500.

School districts — Savannah, Ashland county, $845; Shiloh, $1,731; Bellville, $2,696; Lucas, $1,261; Mifflin, $858; Madison, $11,369; Mansfield, $69,603; Plymouth, $5,735; Springfield, $1,750; Sharon, $560; Shelby, $15,760; Lexington, $2,174; Butler, $1,466; Union, $2,428.

Corporations — Mansfield, $61,851; Shiloh, $195; Bellville, $572; Lucas, $275; South Boulevards, $77; Plymouth, $2,013; Shelby, $20,814; Lexington, $677; Butler, $689.

Townships — Bloominggrove, $241; Butler, $387; Cass, $175; Franklin, $196; Jackson, $230; Jefferson, $391; Monroe, $298; Mifflin, $174; Madison, $2,884; Perry, $163; Plymouth, $887; Springfield, $262. Sandusky, $187; Sharon, $431; Troy, $319; Worthington, $322; Weller, $295; Washington, $8,169.

600 Hear Lecturer

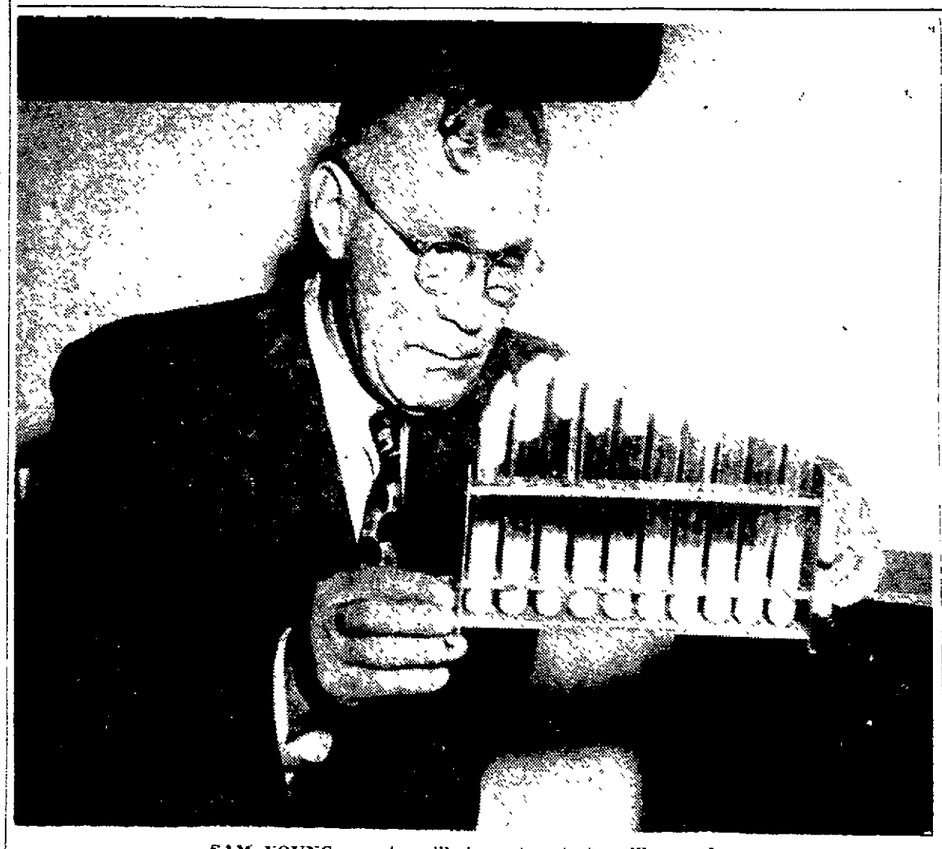
Approximately 600 persons last night heard a lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Promised Comforter," by Ralph E. Wagens, CSB, of Chicago, in the John Simpson auditorium. The lecture was sponsored by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Mansfield.

The lecturer said, in part:

"A Christian Science lecture often encourages a listener to become better acquainted with the Bible; particularly with the first four books of the New Testament. These books record the life history of Christ Jesus, a life which was so important to humanity that it brought forth a new calendar.

"Jesus recognized that he had a particular work to finish, and he finished it. A part of his work was to prepare thought for a fuller unfoldment of Christ, Truth. Fulfilling the prophecy concerning himself, he forged another link in the chain of prophetic promise: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter.'

"In order for the Comforter to fulfill its divine mission and accomplish the greater works to which Jesus referred, it was essential that human thought become spiritually receptive. But this thought must be prepared to think scientifically as well, in order to gain the more impersonal sense of God as divine Principle and of man as divine idea."



SAM YOUNG, county milk inspector, tests milk samples

Hedge Apple Tests Boost Milk Supply

By MARGUERITE MILLER

The man who helps protect Mansfield's milk supply is winning recognition throughout the middle west with his milking parlor and his experiments with hedge apples.

Sam Young makes pure milk his profession and hobby. His ideas on how to maintain healthier milk-producing herds have already come to the attention of Ohio State university's agriculture department which will conduct an experiment with hedge-apples next fall.

Agriculture colleges as far west as Nebraska have adopted his "milking parlor," which he recalled was labeled "a crazy idea" by skeptics a few years back.

It's not unusual then that Young, who contends he was the first dairy inspector to recognize udder trouble or mastitis and its effect upon Richland county's milk supply, is no eight-hour-a-day man.

Frequently the lights in Young's health department office burn long past midnight. Raw milk samples, taken from five supplying counties as well as from all city dairies are given the mastitis test until Young is satisfied the experiment is complete.

HUNTS 'TROUBLE AREAS'

This is the first step in Young's crusade for productive cows. The next morning finds him on the road to the farms from which milk tested "unsatisfactory."

After looking over the stables where the animals are kept, examining the cattle and inquiring about their diet from the farmers, Young is usually able to make a diagnosis of the trouble.

The test given all Richland county milk is one of the best known — the menthylene blue test. One cubic centimeter of menthylene blue is dropped into 10 cc's of milk. Each test is made in a separate tube, marked with the number of the producer. Next step is the incubation of the now bluish milk in water maintained at 98 and three-fifths degrees Fahrenheit.

While pasteurization takes care of germs in the milk, the test provides a "clearing-house" through which the good milk producers are separated from the diseased.

Point of the test is for the milk to "stand-up" or retain the bluish cast nine hours after the methylene blue is added. Young says 92 per cent of the county's supply stands this test "which is very good." Among the other eight per cent are found indications of mastitis, which lowers a cow's efficiency to between 22 and 25 per cent of maximum.

"Ninety per cent of udder trouble is due to improper stabling. I don't think we'll ever be rid of it because a little cold in the cow's udder can start it," Young stated.

"By improper stabling I mean cows resting on cement floors. Cold cement is no bed for cattle which are sensitive to temperature and which represent big investments for the farmers.

"I believe the separate milking parlor is the answer. There cows may be rotated through and then led back to their stalls."

USES STRAW

A visit to a farm just southwest of Mansfield where the owner took Young's advice proved the dairy inspector's point. The complete lower floor of the barn was concrete, but covered with a six-inch layer of straw. Cattle were free to move as they pleased in the enclosure and were still assured of a warm bed if they laid down. Just off, and opening from the stable was the snow-white milking parlor, concrete from floor to ceiling and containing three stanchions, through which the large herd was rotated for rapid milking.

"We haven't had a sign of udder trouble since we put straw on that floor and built in this milking room," the farmer said, "and we're getting better milk production right along."

That same farmer, Young said, lost several hundred dollars a couple of years ago when his herd developed udder trouble.

Once in a while, Young runs across something puzzling as was the case last fall when one test tube of milk kept consistently absorbing all blue coloring in two to three hours.

Young made a visit to the farm. Mastitis had never been found in the milk supply there before. The barn and all surroundings seemed perfect for healthy cattle. More tests were made on the spot—all with the same discouraging results.

As Young drove from the farm, he noticed several cows near a hedge-apple tree in the corner of the pasture. An idea struck him. If the cows were eating the fruit—excess acidity in the milk could have made the milk change quickly.

ELIMINATES TROUBLE

He drove back to the farm. The farmer hadn't noticed his cows eating the hedgeapples, but promised that he'd get rid of the tree. By the end of the week, the milk from that farm was again back to its old standard of a nine-hour test. The hedgeapple tree was gone—along with a loss of several hundred pounds of milk.

Subsequent contacts with highly acid milk from farms where hedgeapple trees were growing made Young do more investigating. Every time the trees were removed, the milk came back up to standard.

Young reported it to the OSU agriculture department heads who were surprised to hear of the cases. Next fall the university hopes to find more data on the power of the little hedgeapple and its effect on the health of the milk-producing cow.

'Rebellion' Short-Lived

Senior High Pupils Stage Brief Protest

Self-branded "convicts" became reconciled to studen' life again at Senior high school today, signaling an end to a good-natured protest against a faculty crackdown on class skippers.

The "rebellion" was marked yesterday by pupils wearing signs on their backs, reading "Convict No.----" and chalked messages on some classroom doors reading "Cell Block 9145" or "Warden-Visiting Room."

Ladders used by workmen on a redecorating job were confiscated by boys who set them up in locker sections and chanted, "I went over the top."

The "rebellion" was short-lived. Detention slips handed out freely discouraged its continuance.

Rigid enforcement of rules for release of pupils from classrooms were the cause. Long in effect, the rules were ordered stringently observed Wednesday.

They require that no pupil trespass in the corridors during class hours unless he carry a permit signed by a teacher.

Pupils sent on errands by teachers are given yellow slips. Pupils wishing to leave the school building for any valid reason are given a "blue" excuse signed by Miss Pearl Danback or Herman Bishop. These include pupils usually dismissed early to fill part-time jobs.

Faculty members, as well as pupils, took the "rebellion" in good humor.

State Reply To Tax Request Due

Mansfield's application for tax exemption of the Clear Fork reservoir site should be answered by the state "in a week or so," City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said today.

Kalbfleisch said a correction in the application had been given a hearing by the state board, after the errors were rectified by himself and Charles C. Payne, county treasurer.

Correction of the first application, he said, was necessary due to an error in making out the form.

Oldtimers in the area say the ring once belonged to a circus giant by that name who came to the area one summer. The ring is large enough to hold a half dollar within its circle.

Mrs. Eggert Dies In Galion

Mrs. Lenna A. Eggert, 67, widow of John M. Eggert, of 308 West Fifth street, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Mortland, 501 North Columbus street, Galion, early today. Death followed an extended illness.

Born near Olena in Huron county, Oct. 23, 1880, Mrs. Eggert lived in Greenwich before coming to Mansfield in 1898. She had lived here since that time. Her husband died Jan. 13, 1945.

Mrs. Eggert was a member of the First Evangelical UB church, Mansfield Tent No. 130 Maccabees, Mansfield Review No. 77 Women's Benefit association, and was a past councilor of the Lady Garfield Council No. 24, Daughters of America.

Surviving, besides her daughter, are one son, Efflo Eggert of Columbus, and four grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m., at the Finefrock funeral home with Rev. N. R. Somerville, pastor of the First Methodist church in Galion, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Aged Daughter Of Slaves Dies

Mrs. Jemima Seal, the daughter of slaves and believed to have been more than 100 years old, died at the home of Mrs. Alma Davis, 117 Lafayette avenue, early today after an extended illness.

Born in Chrenshaw, Ala., Mrs. Seal came to Mansfield 35 years ago. She was a member of the Shiloh Baptist church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Abbie Wheeler of Mansfield, nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. A son, Hilton Davis, died two years ago.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home where friends may call. Arrangements are incomplete.

Board Awaits West Virginian

Mansfield soon may have a new health commissioner, the city health board announced last night at its regular meeting in the office of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Dr. A. C. Biddle has been acting health commissioner since the resignation of Dr. Fred O. Tonney, Feb. 1.

"At present we are corresponding with several applicants and hope to select the new commissioner soon," Dr. R. B. Moyer, board member, announced.

"Our biggest problem so far is the salary the position offers of $6,100 a year which is almost the lowest in any county in Ohio," he said.

"One applicant, from West Virginia, a very capable man for the position, is expected any day to visit us. When he arrives the board will call a special meeting for an interview. We are anxious to see the position filled as quickly as possible by a capable physician."

THOUSAND TO ONE

Dr. Moyer also reported to the board on his recent trip to Columbus to attend the regional conference of the National Rat Control program.

"If you see one rat running across the street," Dr. Moyer said, "then you can reasonably estimate that there are probably 1,000 rats in the neighborhood."

"Rats travel in large armies, and one pair of rats, if left to reproduce unhampered, disregarding the death rate, will increase to 350,000 in one year and 359,000,000 in three years."

Rats outnumber the human population in urban areas more than two to one and cost taxpayers $300,000,000 annually, he added. They are probably the worst spreaders of death and disease in the world responsible for the bubonic plague, typhus fever, spirochetal jaundice, food poisoning and rabies or hydrophobia.

A program for rat control in Mansfield is being planned and the health board has asked that every one begin at once to help the program by being extremely careful in disposal of garbage, sealing of cereal and cookie boxes. The only sure way to rid the area of rats is by starvation.

Recorder's Business Up

Fees received in the county recorder's office reached record high in April, Recorder D. D. Orewiler reported yesterday.

Receipts totaled $1,471, compared with $1,273 in March, 1948. Previous peak month was June, 1946, when $1,325.40 was collected.

The spurt in business was attributed to refinancing of mortgages and the buying of homes. Orewiler said 410 mortgage deeds and 462 warranty deeds were filed, both record highs. The number of chattel mortgages totaled 709.

Joseph Rhodes Dies at 75

Joseph Rhodes, 75, of 290 North Main street, died Thursday at the Hix Rest home on the West Fourth street road following a lingering illness.

He was born March 10, 1873 in Chicago, coming to Mansfield 40 years ago.

He was for several years associated with the Allerding Products company, maker of automobile steering wheels. He has no known urvivors.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home but will be removed to the Volunteers of America chapel, 290 North Main street, for services at 1 p. m. Saturday, in charge of Adj. Richard L. Gutterman of the Volunteers of America. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. The body will remain at the funeral home until time for services.

Hearing on South Boulevards Annexation Set For July 7

A petition, calling for annexation of South Boulevards to the city of Mansfield was submitted yesterday to county commissioners. They set a hearing on the petition for 10 a. m. July 7 in their office.

The petition, submitted by C. J. Kalbfleisch, city solicitor, asks that South Boulevards, consisting of 477 lots, be annexed. A copy of the annexation ordinance, voted by city council says the annexation is "subject to being voided by failure or refusal of city council to accept the apportionment of indebtedness and division of funds of South Boulevards."

The ordinance was passed unanimously by council Tuesday night. The commissioners and county auditor now must figure the debt apportionment between the city and Madison townships. The apportionment then goes to city council which must act on the final annexation measure.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe reported today that South Boulevards has an indebtedness of $23,000 in sewer bonds, which mature in 1963. However, only $6,000 worth of the bonds are village debts.

The rest of the debt represents special assessments for sewer lines and is chargeable against the landowners, whether they live in South Boulevards or Mansfield. The indebtedness of the school district would also have to be worked out. South Boulevards presently is in the Madison school district, but on annexation would be in the Mansfield school district.

Does Paul Brown, Pro Coaching Great, Want To Return To Ohio State?

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—For a gentleman who has barely reached the life-begins-at-40 age bracket, Paul E. Brown has enjoyed unusual success at his chosen profession.

Few will gainsay that the highly personable wizard who now directs the Cleveland pro Browns' football fortunes is one of the all time greats of grid coaching.

Brown, himself, is said to feel that his personal ambition has been thwarted only once in a lifetime of connection with the sport.

That was during the 1941-43 period, when as head coach at Ohio State, he locked horns with the Bucks' shrewd old athletic director, L. W. St. John.

Brown was determined to exercise unlimited authority over Buck football policy and he had frank hopes of succeeding St. John when the latter's pending retirement took effect. It was inevitable that such ideas would cause turmoil in the czarist regime "The Saint" had maintained for so many years.

After the 1943 season, Brown went into the service and became connected with the Navy's athletic program at Great Lakes. Shortly thereafter, he accepted an offer by Mickey McBride of the Cleveland All-America conference team to become coach and general manager.

Brown's already ruffled feathers certainly were not smoothed by subsequent remarks of St. John's, which were tactless to say the least.

Most of the current belief that Brown would chuck his excellent Cleveland set-up to return to Ohio State as combined coach-athletic director is predicated on the supposition that he would like to square accounts.

Brown disciples, many of them men of great influence on the Buckeye athletic scene, already are conducting a carefully planned campaign to bring him back.

He, himself, is said to regret that the situation has been built up to proportions of a major feud. However, he has never convinced the public that he would not be amenable to a proper OSU offer.

Fuel has been added by Brown's policy of signing Ohio Staters to his pro eleven. The stream of players has included Dante Lavelli, Lou Groza, Lin Houston, Tony Adamle, Bob Gaudio, Ollie Cline, Dean Sensanbaugher and Bob Brugge. All had college eligibility remaining, although their original classes had graduated.

Brown insists that he is merely trying to build the strongest possible Cleveland team. Ohio State officials feel that he is signing athletes he doesn't really need, merely to pester the OSU regime.

Whatever the explanation, Brown and his Buck alumni have won two straight All-America conference titles while Ohio State has been a disappointment under former Brown Lieutenant Paul Bixler in 1946 and under Wesley Fesler in 1947.

Whether Brown actually would return on his own terms is something that only the wiry grid genius knows. Possibly he is surfeited with success and glory; perhaps he does have enough money laid by to return to a less remunerative campus position.

Whatever the case may be, the university athletic situation at present is the loser in a clash of personal feeling between its present administrators and Brown.

The best thing that could happen would be the intervention of some diplomatic soul who could persuade the two factions to bury the hatchet and meet in a large area of mutual benefit.

Certainly there is much for the university to gain in an harmonious relationship with the head of one of the most powerful professional organizations in the land.

By the same token, Brown's stature would be increased with the laying aside of personal rancor and ambition.

About Massillon's New Coach, Bigger Athletic Program

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

MASSILLON'S far-famed gridiron dynasty should lose little of its luster with youthful Chuck Mather in the head football coaching saddle. . . . And the over-all athletic program should improve by leaps and bounds. . . . Since the great Paul Brown, only Bud Houghton, who went to Akron U. recently, has had much chance to tinker with the Washington coaching set-up. . . . Elwood Kammer and Mansfield's Augie Morningstar filled in while Bud was in service. . . . Now Mather has already brought in Paul Schofer as basketball coach and wants Carl "Ducky" Schroeder, the Springfield athletic director and former Wittenberg coach, as one of his assistants. . . . Mather would like another assistant's job to go to Dave Putts, Miami U. senior. . . . Putts had been set to go into the Hamilton program as an aide to Matner. . . . We talked to quite a few coaches and athletic men at the Cleveland Browns' coaching clinic and most of them felt Mather was the finest thing to come along the football coaching pike since Brown was at Massillon. . . . Of course, Mather will be stepping into a spot where precedent calls for a winner, making for tremendous pressure. . . . That Mather can come through we have little doubt. . . . Just two seasons ago he took over at Hamilton Sept. 1 with the first game ten days away (his predecessors had held spring football) and his team copped eight of ten games.

★ ★ ★

Mather had to make a tough decision in leaving Hamilton. . . . He had been offered over $5,000 to stay at Hamilton and the Massillon job was worth only $1,700 to Houghton for combined football and basketball coaching. . . . Then the Massillon school board upped its salary scale to $5,500 for football only, with a $300 boost for the second season. . . . Mather should be a power in the seven-team Northern Ohio Football league which was fathered by Morningstar. . . . He had been one of the guiding lights in the southern counterpart which includes Hamilton, Portsmouth, Middletown and Springfield. . . . After his 1947 team won nine of ten games, Mather was named by the Ohio High School Football Coaches association to direct the southern stars in the scholastic game at Canton in August . . . Harry Strobel, coach of the state championship Barberton squad, will boss the northern group . . . Many persons feel that Massillon officials had to step outside the family, the coaching profession is loaded with former Tiger stars, to escape favoritism . . . Mather had been scheduled to bring his crack Hamilton team to Arlington field next fall, now he will be here with Massillon . . . The Big Blue defeated Toledo Waite, 24-13, in a scrimmage game two weeks ago and should be among the state's better teams . . . It was a tough decision for Mather to make but he told us last week, "I feel Massillon offers the best opportunity in high school coaching."

★ ★ ★

MASSILLON gained its fame from winning football clubs. . . . Now it is apparent that the Tiger officials want to go all out in other sports proficiency . . . Passing the cage coaching job into separate hands is one step in the right direction. . . . Schofer is a fine cage coach and southern Ohio writers were already booming his 1949 Hamilton club as state champions. . . . Last year, his club lost only to Findlay, Portsmouth and Middletown during the regular season . . . The Big Blue was eliminated in district tourney play by Middletown 47 to 46. . . . Other sports too should benefit . . . Track will probably get more time . . . The thinclad sport is "down" at Massillon . . . Just two days ago the Tigers fell before Canton McKinley, 102⅔ to 15⅓, the latter school taking all 11 first places (Mansfield had little trouble beating McKinley, 75 to 43). . . . Already Mather is on record as favoring more players on the Washington high squad . . . The Tigers have always concentrated on a small varsity squad . . . A reserve squad will probably be Mather's answer. . . . He says, 'I feel you lose a good player now and then when you cut off some youngster coming into high school from junior high who hasn't grown up yet. A larger squad will enable us to keep these boys together and perhaps by their senior year some of them may mature sufficiently to make the varsity team. At least they will have the fun of playing football and developing their bodies and will have profited from it in that way.'

★ ★ ★

L. J. SMITH the Massillon superintendent of schools goes right along with Mather's ideas on an enlarged grid program. . . . Smith expects the operation to add about $800 to the football budget but feels that youngsters whose bodies do not measure up to varsity requirements still should have an opportunity to play football . . . It's case of getting football on the same basis as choir and dramatic club, he said. "We once had but one choir. Now we have a first and second choir, the latter for students whose voices have not developed sufficiently for first choir requirements, but who still are given the opportunity to enjoy singing under trained leadership." . . . The Massillon board also is after an enlarged physical education program . . . All of which, of course, leaves a couple of choice coaching spots available at Hamilton . . . The Big Blue cage team has four first stringers back next year . . . With the prospect of an expanded program at Massillon we feel that now is the time for Mansfield athletic officials to line up spring sports rivalries with Massillon for next year . . . The Northern Ohio league pact really will include all sports and the spring endeavors would be the easiest to line up.

Tygers Lose First Ball Game, 4-3

Ashland A's Score 2 In Top of 5th

By CHARLEY STINE

Rain, loose fielding, and some free swinging Ashland batters combined yesterday to bring a sudden halt to Senior high's winning streak which had reached five games. Ashland defeated the Tygers, 4-3, at Blue Goose in a game halted by rain at the end of the fifth inning.

Almost the entire game was played in a downpour before being halted by Umpire Red Hamman at the end of the five innings needed to make it official.

While suffering their first defeat, the Tygers had shown their best batting form of the season by pounding out six hits during the first four innings. They scored once in each of the first three frames and led 3-2 coming into the fifth inning when fate took a hand.

ONLY ONE WALK

Gregorio issued his only walk of the day to open the fifth and the next two men beat out bunts. Both were poorly executed but the Tyger pitcher missed them by inches in an attempt to make diving catches.

With the bases loaded and none out, Coach Jimmy Lymper brought Shelly Swank in to replace Gregorio and sent Lou to right field. Marchant took over at second base.

Swank got the first man on a force at home and struck out the second, but Glassel, the A's pitcher hoisted a little fly to right. By this time the rain had made the field a sea of mud and Gregorio slipped and fell trying to get under the ball. Two runs romped home to give the visitor's their winning margin.

IN QUICK ORDER

The Tygers went out in quick order in the last of the fifth and protested mildly when Hamman called the game. The rain increased slightly in tempo, however, and the field had already become very slippery.

Ashland started off in the lead when Plank led off the game with a double and rode home on an infield out and a long fly. The Tygers tied the game in the bottom of the first on Dick Messner's bobble of Sparkie Watts grounder, a stolen base and Joe Miller's single.

Senior high went ahead in the second when Don Gross was hit by a pitched ball and Phil Rogers, Charles Marchant and Lou Gregorio followed with singles. Gross was out at the plate trying to score on Marchant's hit but Gregorio batted Rogers home.

Hits by Plank and Messner tied the game for the A's in the top of the third but the Tygers came back to forge ahead on a single by Shelly Swank, walk to Sparkie Watts, error by A's third baseman and long fly by Mike Gruber.

Hedges Piles Up Winning Total In 'Kid' Track Meet

Placing in all but one event the Hedges school team won the annual grade school track and field championship yesterday at Stadium field.

Coach Mike Hallabrin's talented crew ran up 39 points to succeed Bowman as champion. Bushnell took second place with 18 points while Newman ended in third place with 17. The Dave Ohly paced Prospect team picked up 15 points.

Ohly was the meet's leading scorer with 13 points. He won the 50-yard dash, took second in the broad jump and notched a third in the hurdles. Ned Diemer, Carpenter, was second with 11. Diemer copped the shot put and tied for first with George Ackinclose, Bushnell, in the pole vault.

THREE FIRSTS

Hedges' Dick Bricker won the high jump and took a third in the pole vault for nine tallies. Dave Jacobs in the broad jump and the 440-yard relay team of Jacobs, Pete Grassell, Jack Cline and Ed Avery copped the other Hedges first places.

W. B. Jones the Bushnell basketball ace, laid away the other victory when he won the hurdles.

Other team scores follow. Carpenter 11½, West Fifth 6, Bowman 4, Brinkerhoff 1½.

O-I Rained Out

COLUMBUS (AP) Rain washed out the entire four-game program of the Ohio Indiana baseball league last night, leaving the teams to make up the games in doubleheaders.

Sport Center Wins 'A' Title

Ohio Sport Center won only one of three games from Lemley Cleaners on the Colony alleys last night but managed to win the Women's Commercial A bowling league title by a two-game margin.

The second-place PD's Bar team won two of three from Mansfield Frosted Foods. The PD's quintet had the high single game of 874 and the top team total of 2,450 pins. Arlene Peter, PD's leadoffer, topped the individuals with 216-167-157—540.

Dorothy McDevitt of Sport Center had the high single game of 218. Other high scores were turned in by Mary McMullen, Safety Cabs 176-172-179—527 and Donna Schuster, Sport Center, 152-212-158—522.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting

Johnny Mize, Giants—Homered doubled and singled to drive in three runs on return to action after two-game layoff.

Bobby Brown, Yanks—Hit disputed two-run home in eighth inning to tame Browns, 6-5, drove in four runs with two hits.

Pitching

Ray Poat, Giants—Limited Pittsburgh to four hits, stopping Pirates' six-game win streak, 9-2.

Early Wynn, Senators—Spun out White Sox with three hits, 6-0.

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Athletics Were Picked For Low Spot; Look at 'Em Leading American League

By JACK HAND
(AP) Sports Writer

Give a cheer for 85-year-old Connie Mack and his surprising Philadelphia Athletics. Five straight wins, climaxed by a kayo decision over Bobby Feller, have boosted the A's into the American league lead.

Picked for the second division with the White Sox, Browns and Senators, the Athletics begin to look like serious contenders for a higher spot.

HIT ONLY .246

It's difficult to put a finger on the reason. They are hitting only .246 as a club and the top batter, Pete Suder at .346, is spotted eighth in the order. Only five of the first 14 pitchers went the route. Still they win. Shortstop Eddie Joost, with four homers and a .333 average rates some credit.

Pitching, of course, is the strong point, despite sore arms and the poor spring form of Bill McCahan and Joe Coleman. Lou Brissie, brilliant rookie with the injured leg, helped out with two wins and now Dick Fowler seems ready.

Fowler worked only two-thirds of an inning on relief before yesterday's 8-5 victory over Cleveland.

George Vico, Detroit's rookie first baseman, and Birdie Tebbets, the Boston Red Sox's catcher, staged fight to enliven proceedings at Fenway Park. The two players fell when Tebbets tagged Vico as a squeeze play went away.

Vico punched Tebbets' mask, Birdie flung it off and threw a punch. After they had been separated and ejected from the game, they scuffled in the tunnel to the dressing rooms.

Although the Red Sox knocked out Hal Newhouser in the first inning, they lost the game to Detroit, 8-3. Hal White walked six but allowed only four hits in 8 2 3 innings while the Tigers flattened Jack Kramer with his first loss.

There was an argument in New York, too, where the St. Louis Browns claimed Bobby Brown's game-winning homer was a foul ball. The homer came with a man on in the eighth for a 6-5 Yankee victory.

Washington pulled up to the .500 mark by shutting out Chicago for the second night in a row, 5-0, on Early Wynn's three-hit pitching, none in the last six frames.

STREAK BROKEN

All other National league games were washed out — Brooklyn at Chicago, Boston at Cincinnati and a scheduled night meeting of Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Commercial Pin Loop Schedules Annual Fete

The Commercial "B" league bowling banquet will be staged next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Liederkranz hall.

Indians Scalped Again By A's

Tribesmen Drop Down To Third

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Philadelphia story is a sad one for Cleveland Indian fans today.

When the Redskins invaded the "City of Brotherly Love" last Tuesday, the Athletics promptly handed them their third defeat in a row. Wednesday, fortunately for the Indians, the game was called because of wet grounds.

However, it didn't rain in Shibe park yesterday and Connie Mack's surprising A's again downed the Tribe, 8-5, to sweep the series and hand the Redskins their fourth defeat in a row.

Still strong at the plate but weak in the pitcher's box, the Tribe, by virtue of yesterday's loss, took a nose dive from their first-place berth in the American league to the third-place spot.

The Athletics now reign with New York second.

KEY MEN COLLAPSE

The Tribe's two key men, Manager Lou Boudreau and Bob Feller, virtually collapsed in the field. The Tribe manager contributed to his team's drubbing by making two errors in one inning as Fireballer Feller was again driven out of the box by five earned runs on eight hits.

Despite the loss, Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon salvaged part of the Indians' reputation as a slugging club by smashing home runs. The two blows ran the team total to 18 in 10 games.

Three extra runs were given to the A's by Boudreau, who committed two errors in the first inning, both on what could have been double play balls. The Athletics scored four times in that frame although only one ball rolled past the infield.

FELLER WALKS FIVE

In pitching three and one-third innings, slightly less than he hurled last Saturday against Detroit, Feller had difficulty finding the plate. He walked five. It was his second defeat in a row against as many victories.

After Feller hit the showers, the Indians were given very effective relief hurling by Steve Gromek and Lyman Linde, who blanked the A's for the rest of the distance.

The Indians were batting against the capable offerings of Dick Fowler, one of the A's leading hurlers, who scattered eight hits and walked four.

KELTNER'S HOMER

After the Athletics tallied four runs in the first the Tribe came back with four in the second. A walk to Robinson, a single by Hank Edwards and a walk to Gordon set the stage for Keltner's grand slam homer.

The Tribesmen open a two-game series with Washington tonight. Bob Lemon, the only Cleveland starter who hasn't been knocked out of the box, will be seeking his third win against only one setback. Mickey Haefner probably will oppose him.

Tennis Team Still Seeks First Win

Coach Fred Staub's Senior high tennis team is still looking for its first victory of the season after dropping a 4-0 decision to Sandusky in a match halted by rain yesterday.

Four singles matches had been played, all won by Sandusky, when the rain came. Jim Shelly had lost to Jim Blough, 8-10 and 1-6; Jim Gandert fell before Jim Thomas, 5-7 and 4-6; Jim Goodman bowed to Jack Shaeffer, 1-6 and 1-6, and Ed Brown defeated Bill McGraw 6-4 and 5-7.

Senior high's John Crouse had just won the first set 6-2 and was tied 3-3 in the second when the action was stopped. Both doubles matches were rained out.

Fremont will come here next Tuesday for a return match on the Maple Lake park courts.

Crews Race On Muskingum

MARIETTA —(AP)—Eight-oared crews of Washington and Lee university and Marietta college drop their racing shells into the Muskingum river today for a pair of trials.

Both varsity and Jayvee crews of the two schools will tour the one and 5-16 miles Muskingum river course—the only eight-oared races planned in this section this year.

Marietta crewmen this year are untested in collegiate competition, but the Generals from Lexington, Va., have met both the American International University and Rollins College of Florida crews this season.

Practice Data

Four softball teams have been assigned practice time on city softball diamonds today by Recreation Director Stan Kamen.

Scheduled to work out at 5:30 p. m. are: Post 16 at Liberty park, the Telephone company at Johns park, Park Avenue Baptist church team at Prospect park and Four Square Gospel church at North Lake Park.

Broken Nose Delays Belloise-Hunter Meet

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland's "fight of the decade," was set back a couple of months today because of a broken nose.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins announced that the scheduled return match between middleweights Steve Belloise and Chuck Hunter of Cleveland on May 17 has been cancelled because of the injury suffered by the New Yorker.

Dill Wins Thriller For Lexington, 4-3

Lexington high school tacked a story-book finish onto its opening game of the district baseball tournament yesterday at Old Fort, edging Fremont St. Joseph 4-3 in the 15th inning.

Fred Gore doubled with Marion Altman on second base in the top of the 15th to give the Richland countians the victory. Altman had reached base on an error and stole second.

Dick Dill was the real Lexington hero, going the full 15 frames on the mound and scattering nine hits. His mates committed four errors behind him but he refused to be ruffled. The game was unusually fast, taking only two hours and 15 minutes to complete.

PLYMOUTH WINS

Plymouth, scheduled to play Norwalk St. Paul, won by a forfeit when the Norwalk team failed to show for the game. Plymouth will meet Bettsville at noon next Monday while Lexington will play Woodsville at 2 p. m.

The Fremont-Lexington game yesterday was tied at the end of the regulation seven innings. Lexington scored in the top of the eighth but Fremont came back and tied it up in the last half. The next six innings were scoreless.

Rollin Ford, Lexington's all-around athlete, got the longest hit of the day, a three-bagger in the first inning.

Tom Tucker Wins Skish Contest at Y

Tom Tucker, Senior high school baseball player, won the 15-17 year age division of the Mansfield Skish contest last night in the YMCA.

Tucker scored an average of 45 points while Ed Schmitt and Elvin Hawkins were tied for second with a 35-point average. Schmitt won in a playoff.

In the 12-14 division Charles Burkhart was the winner with a 35 point average while Jim Foss was runnerup with 30 points and Bob Denig was third with 25.

Approximately 50 boys took part in the contest.

Chicago Is Scene Of Fights Tonight

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light heavyweight, and Elmer (Violent) Ray, Hastings, Fla., heavyweight, meet tonight in Chicago stadium in a return 10-round bout which has twice been postponed.

It will be the first major professional show in Chicago in 77 days. On the previous card on Feb. 20, Charles knocked out Sam Barouli, of Akron, O., in the 10th round. Barouli died six hours later. Tonight's bout will be the first for Charles since then.

Ohio State Offers Coaching Clinic

COLUMBUS—(AP)— Ohio State University offered its 17th annual football clinic for the Buckeye high school coaches today, and between 500 and 600 of the scholastic mentors were scheduled to attend.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, was to open the program at 9 a. m. with an outline of the "T" offense. The Irish coach, arriving at 7:50 a. m. was to fly back to South Bend in time for this afternoon's grid practice.

Ninth In ABC

DETROIT—(INS)—The Ira Wilson quintet of Detroit slipped into ninth place in American Bowling Congress tournament standings last night by registering 2960, the only impressive score posted all day.

Senior High Athletes In Canton Relays

Twenty-one Senior high school track and field athletes will compete in the seventh annual Canton McKinley night relays tomorrow.

It will be the fifth relay appearance for Harry Mehock's squad which is unbeaten in four dual meets this season. The Tygers won the Uhrichsville relays and took fourth in the Newark event last week.

Tommy Tucker will make the trip but may not be able to go at full speed. The ebony sprint and broad jump ace has a pulled muscle in his leg.

Mehock today named the following men to make the trip: sprints, Tucker, Bob Troll and John Bricker; 440, Willie Fowler, and Ken Cline; 880, Paul Hammond and Pete Vogt; mile run, Alan Poorman, Gerry Gerrell, Denny Ryan; hurdles, Marty Bricker, A. C. Jenkins and George Russell.

Weights, Burt Lindsay and Ken Snyder; pole vault, Don Cline, Paul Ferguson and Lou Gregorio; high jump, Fowler and Ferguson; broad jump, Tucker and George Doyle; relays, Chuck Eagleston and Floyd Guegold.

Mangrum Cracks Course Record

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.—(UP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who cracked the course record with a first round 66, faced an immediate showdown today with red-hot Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., in the second round of the $10,000 Goodall round robin golf tournament.

Mangrum was the leader as the 16 leading pros in the game headed into the second round but Barron was only a point behind.

Organize Grid Loop

WHEELING, W. Va. — (UP) — Representatives of cities interested in organizing a semi-pro football league were scheduled to meet here tonight. Expected to be represented were Wheeling, Weirton and Parkersburg, W. Va., and Massillon, Steubenville and Bellaire, O.

New Faces Listed For Grays Nine

Several new faces will be in the lineup when the Mansfield Grays' semi-professional baseball team opens its 1948 season against the Marion VFW aggregation at 2:30 p. m. Sunday on the refurbished Blue Goose field.

Outstanding among the newcomers may be Kenny Funk, the former Ashland college sports star. Funk was an all-Ohio back for the Eagles two years ago and last year played baseball with Coshocton in the Central Ohio league. He is an infielder.

Manager Lefty Deeds has sliced his roster to 15 players for the coming season. More than 30 area athletes tried for places on the Grays' squad. Deeds may give several other players a chance to make the roster as the season progresses.

PITCHING STAFF

Jack Hammett, Dick Fought and the Veteran Merle Leedy will handle the Mansfield mound chores with Tick Hamilton and John Heckert listed as catchers. Hammett is a regular moundsman on the Ohio State university club now.

Joining Funk in the infield will be Red Hamman, former Grays' manager; Dick Burton, Foster Burggraf and Billie Miller. The outfield staff includes Russ Leedy, Wilbur Wade, Jim Meeting, Bobby Bogantz and Dubby Lockhart. Wade may be changed to a catcher.

Deeds has been impressed by the showing of Lockhart, Meeting and Leedy in the outfield. Meeting was a member of the Senior high school district championship club.

Appleseed Wins First Track Meet

The Johnny Appleseed junior high school track team won its first meet of the season Friday, defeating the Ashland reserves, 51-49, at Ashland.

Ashland collected its points on place positions being able to beat the local lads out for first in only four events. Ashland won the 220, 440 relay, high jump and pole vault.

The Appleseed victory was well divided, not a single man winning two events.

100 Yard Dash—Won by Carr (JA); 2, Drake (SA); 3, Sutton (Ash.). Time—10.7.
220 Yard Dash—Won by Packler (Ash.); 2, Drake (JA); 3, Sutton (Ash.). Time—25.0.
440 Yard Run—Won by Ernsberger (JA); 2, Touby (JA); 3, Satterfield (Ash.). Time—57.7.
880 Yard Run—Won by Hostetler (JA); 2, Wagner (JA); 3, Peters (JA). Time—2:19.5.
440 Yard Relay—Won by Ashland (Quong, Withers, Sutton, and Hostler). Time—50.9.
880 Yard Relay—Won by Appleseed (Green, Ayers, Drake and Carr). Time—1:45.6.
Low Hurdles—Won by Diemer (JA); 2, Sawyer (JA); 3, Withers (Ash.). Time—17.5.
High Jump—Won by Anderson (Ash.); 2, Diemer, (A). Gouge (A) tied. Height 5 feet 3 inches.
Broad Jump—Tie for first among Bates (JA), Clecknor (JA), and Thornhill (JA). Distance—16 feet 5.5 inches.
Pole Vault—Won by Tarr (Ash.); 2, Hubert (JA); 3, Anderson (JA). Height—9 feet 6 inches.
Shot Put—Won by Gouge (JA); 2, Packler (JA); 3, Bates (Ash.). Distance 38 feet 9.75 inches.
Discus—Won by Diemer (JA); 2, Bates (Ash.); 3, Gouge (JA). Distance 86 feet 10 inches.

Pro Cagers Meet

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The All-American professional basketball league will hold a reorganization meeting next Sunday at Wheeling, W. Va., with a major problem being the franchise formerly held by the Columbus Mariners. The Mariners dropped their franchise yesterday. Dayton and Springfield, O., appeared probable sites for the franchise.

Trans-Jordan Holds Power To Solve Holy Land Issue

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The statement made to the United Nations on Palestine by the British colonial secretary, Arthur Creech Jones, is an auspicious event. That is not only because it is the most sensible and useful contribution yet made to the discussion, but because it shows that Great Britain, now that she is about to be relieved of her thankless burdens as the ruler of Palestine, is preparing to take a leading part, which no one else can take, in working out a general settlement.

British leadership is indispensable to a settlement because, as a matter of fact, what has to be settled is the relationship between the Jewish state, which already exists de facto, and the Arab kingdom of Trans-Jordan, which is a British protectorate.

In this situation Britain has a dual role: as one of the great powers in the UN, responsible for making and keeping peace; as the one great power which by treaty and by its military and financial connections is responsible for the conduct of the only Arab state which can wage a serious war or make a genuine peace in Palestine. These two roles are not contradictory but complementary.

What Creech Jones has proposed is that the UN give up the notion of creating and imposing a new regime in Palestine, and that it concentrate its efforts on mediation between the Jewish and the Arab communities. To do this he suggests the appointment of a commission, which would hold, so to speak, in escrow the legal titles to the undivided assets of Palestine, and would seek to arrange a truce, then presumably a treaty of alliance or confederation, between the de facto provisional governments of the Arab and the Jewish communities.

ENDS FALSE PROBLEM

This suggestion disposes of the false problem which has so confused and obscured the real problem. It does away with the imaginary problem that partition was something to be "enforced" by an international army, that a unified country had to be divided forcibly from the outside.

It does away with the imaginary solution that partition could be renounced or abandoned. It recognizes the plain fact that partition has occurred, that "services, once run by the central government, are now in the hands of Jewish and Arab communities; and that, psychologically, a new sense of responsibility toward the maintenance by each community, of its own life, has been created."

The real problem, therefore, is not whether Palestine is to be partitioned, or whether it ought to be, but how—since partition has occurred—a truce, a peace, and finally some form of confederation can be negotiated and accepted.

In this the role of Trans-Jordan is crucial. For events have shown that the Arab guerrillas in Palestine are no match for the Haganah, and that they lack the organization and the force to establish a provisional government. It is reasonably certain that they must lean on King Abdullah and his little Trans-Jordan army.

It follows that the military truce, which everyone must desire, will have to be arranged between the Haganah and the Trans-Jordan army, and that a political peace will have to be negotiated between the kingdom of Trans-Jordan and the provisional government of the Jewish state.

For that there is needed the mediation of Great Britain, closely and sympathetically supported by the United States, and operating with the moral authority of the United Nations.

It is fairly evident that the real problem, as respects King Abdullah, is how to enable him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the Arab territory and of making a treaty with the Jewish state.

Obviously neither the British government nor the United Nations can permit him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the whole of it. They are bound to restrain him from doing that. But they have at the same time every reason to make arrangements by which he is invited to come in to the Arab territory peaceably and to participate in the negotiation of a treaty of settlement.

That requires the exercise of British influence to restrain him from aggression, and of British statesmanship, with American and United Nations support, to make the enlargement of his kingdom an orderly process. Almost certainly it requires also a promise of reinforcements by which he can protect himself against conspiracies and assassinations on the part of the grand mufti and his other Arab enemies.

FACES DANGER

For it is the danger of being stabbed in the back that almost certainly stands in the way of his playing the part which is so greatly in the interest of his kingdom, his dynasty and of the peace and prosperity of Palestine.

It would seem to be indicated, therefore, that Britain and the United States should strengthen the military position in Trans-Jordan, that they should in fact make that sparsely inhabited but strategically important country their principal military position in the Middle East.

What needs to be done to solve the problem of Palestine needs also to be done to solve the problem of maintaining the position of the western world in the Middle East.

Clear Fork Equipment Bids Asked

City Also Seeks Offers on Bridge

The city asked bids today on material and equipment at the main pumping station at the Clear Fork dam and on labor and materials for the Gass road bridge over the Clear Fork.

Bids will be opened at noon, May 28. Separate bids are asked on labor and material for the bridge.

Bids on the pumping station material and equipment must be submitted in four parts: on transformers; sub-station equipment; pumps, motors and induction motor controls, and on switchboard equipment.

Meanwhile, the city's board of control yesterday awarded a contract for resurfacing South Adams street to the Mansfield Asphalt company. Sole bidder on the street project, the company came out with only one part of the four-part program due to insufficient funds allocated by council.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said that unless council appropriates more money to meet the bids on the project, three other streets included in the program may be forgotten "for the present."

Mansfield Asphalt's bid was $4,520 on the South Adams street resurfacing. The estimate was $4,141.

Other streets in the project are Maple street from Marion to Brinkerhoff avenues; East Second street from South Main to Hedges streets and North Adams from East Sixth to Orange streets and Orange street from North Adams street to Newman street.

Used equipment sold by the city yesterday to the highest bidders included:

Three-quarter ton, 1937 truck, $75.50; ton and a half 1935 dump truck, $211, and a 1937 coupe, $67.50 to Paul Whisler, Shelby, R. D. 3. A 1946 two-door police cruiser was sold to Okey M. Stickler, 45 West Second street for $575.

Senior High Golfers Win Third

Coach V. H. Oberlander's golfers were the only Senior high athletic team to win yesterday despite the fact that four were in action.

The Tyger linksmen won their third match against a single defeat by trimming Elyria, 7 to 5, on the Cherry Ridge Golf club at Elyria.

Larry Inscore shot a 40-40—80 to take medalist honors among the locals but Shedron of the home team set the pace with 39-37—76.

The Tygers plan extensive practice rounds next week before meeting Shelby here on Thursday and playing in the district tournament at Findlay on Saturday.

Although shooting the highest score, Steve Demyan was the only Tyger to win all three points yesterday as he beat Sexton of Elyria who shot 49-47—96. Demyan's score was 45-44—89. Tony Taddeo, with 43-45—88, won two points from A. Stednicki, who toured the links in 46-41—87. Larry Inscore also won two points against L. Stednicki's 41-40—81.

Jim Chamberlan with 47-40—87, dropped both nines to Shedron of Elyria.

★

Does Paul Brown, Pro Coaching Great, Want To Return To Ohio State?

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—For a gentleman who has barely reached the life-begins-at-40 age bracket, Paul E. Brown has enjoyed unusual success at his chosen profession.

Few will gainsay that the highly personable wizard who now directs the Cleveland pro Browns' football fortunes is one of the all time greats of grid coaching.

Brown, himself, is said to feel that his personal ambition has been thwarted only once in a lifetime of connection with the sport.

That was during the 1941-43 period, when as head coach at Ohio State, he locked horns with the Bucks' shrewd old athletic director, L. W. St. John.

Brown was determined to exercise unlimited authority over Buck football policy and he had frank hopes of succeeding St. John when the latter's pending retirement took effect. It was inevitable that such ideas would cause turmoil in the czarist regime "The Saint" had maintained for so many years.

After the 1943 season, Brown went into the service and became connected with the Navy's athletic program at Great Lakes. Shortly thereafter, he accepted an offer by Mickey McBride of the Cleveland All-America conference team to become coach and general manager.

Brown's already ruffled feathers certainly were not smoothed by subsequent remarks of St. John's, which were tactless to say the least.

Most of the current belief that Brown would chuck his excellent Cleveland set-up to return to Ohio State as combined coach-athletic director is predicated on the supposition that he would like to square accounts.

Brown disciples, many of them men of great influence on the Buckeye athletic scene, already are conducting a carefully planned campaign to bring him back.

He, himself, is said to regret that the situation has been built up to proportions of a major feud. However, he has never convinced the public that he would not be amenable to a proper OSU offer.

Fuel has been added by Brown's policy of signing Ohio Staters to his pro eleven. The stream of players has included Dante Lavelli, Lou Groza, Lin Houston, Tony Adamle, Bob Gaudio, Ollie Cline, Dean Sensanbaugher and Bob Brugge. All had college eligibility remaining, although their original classes had graduated.

Brown insists that he is merely trying to build the strongest possible Cleveland team. Ohio State officials feel that he is signing athletes he doesn't really need, merely to pester the OSU regime.

Whatever the explanation, Brown and his Buck alumni have won two straight All-America conference titles while Ohio State has been a disappointment under former Brown Lieutenant Paul Bixler in 1946 and under Wesley Fesler in 1947.

Whether Brown actually would return on his own terms is something that only the wiry grid genius knows. Possibly he is surfeited with success and glory; perhaps he does have enough money laid by to return to a less remunerative campus position.

Whatever the case may be, the university athletic situation at present is the loser in a clash of personal feeling between its present administrators and Brown.

The best thing that could happen would be the intervention of some diplomatic soul who could persuade the two factions to bury the hatchet and meet in a large area of mutual benefit.

Certainly there is much for the university to gain in an harmonious relationship with the head of one of the most powerful professional organizations in the land.

By the same token, Brown's stature would be increased with the laying aside of personal rancor and ambition.

About Massillon's New Coach, Bigger Athletic Program

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

MASSILLON'S far-famed gridiron dynasty should lose little of its luster with youthful Chuck Mather in the head football coaching saddle. . . . And the over-all athletic program should improve by leaps and bounds. . . . Since the great Paul Brown, only Bud Houghton, who went to Akron U. recently, has had much chance to tinker with the Washington coaching set-up. . . . Elwood Kammer and Mansfield's Augie Morningstar filled in while Bud was in service. . . . Now Mather has already brought in Paul Schofer as basketball coach and wants Carl "Ducky" Schroeder, the Springfield athletic director and former Wittenberg coach, as one of his assistants. . . . Mather would like another assistant's job to go to Dave Putts, Miami U. senior. . . . Putts had been set to go into the Hamilton program as an aide to Mather. . . . We talked to quite a few coaches and athletic men at the Cleveland Browns' coaching clinic and most of them felt Mather was the finest thing to come along the football coaching pike since Brown was at Massillon. . . . Of course, Mather will be stepping into a spot where precedent calls for a winner, making for tremendous pressure. . . . That Mather can come through we have little doubt. . . . Just two seasons ago he took over at Hamilton Sept. 1 with the first game ten days away (his predecessors had held spring football) and his team copped eight of ten games.

★ ★ ★

Mather had to make a tough decision in leaving Hamilton. . . . He had been offered over $5,000 to stay at Hamilton and the Massillon job was worth only $4,700 to Houghton for combined football and basketball coaching. . . . Then the Massillon school board upped its salary scale to $5,500 for football only, with a $300 boost for the second season. . . . Mather should be a power in the seven-team Northern Ohio Football league which was fathered by Morningstar. . . . He had been one of the guiding lights in the southern counterpart which includes Hamilton, Portsmouth, Middletown and Springfield. . . . After his 1947 team won nine of ten games, Mather was named by the Ohio High School Football Coaches association to direct the southern stars in the scholastic game at Canton in August. . . . Harry Strobel, coach of the state championship Barberton squad, will boss the northern group. . . . Many persons feel that Massillon officials had to step outside the family, the coaching profession is loaded with former Tiger stars, to escape favoritism. . . . Mather had been scheduled to bring his crack Hamilton team to Arlin field next fall, now he will be here with Massillon. . . . The Big Blue defeated Toledo Waite, 24-13, in a scrimmage game two weeks ago and should be among the state's better teams. . . . It was a tough decision for Mather to make but he told us last week, "I feel Massillon offers the best opportunity in high school coaching."

★ ★ ★

MASSILLON gained its fame from winning football clubs. . . . Now it is apparent that the Tiger officials want to go all out in other sports proficiency. . . . Passing the cage coaching job into separate hands is one step in the right direction. . . . Schofer is a fine cage coach and southern Ohio writers were already booming his 1949 Hamilton club as state champions. . . . Last year, his club lost only to Findlay, Portsmouth and Middletown during the regular season. . . . The Big Blue was eliminated in district tourney play by Middletown, 47 to 46. . . . Other sports too should benefit. . . . Track will probably get more time. . . . The thinclad sport is "down" at Massillon. . . . Just two days ago the Tigers fell before Canton McKinley, 102⅔ to 15⅓, the latter school taking all 14 first places. Mansfield had little trouble beating McKinley, 75 to 43). . . . Already Mather is on record as favoring more players on the Washington high squad. . . . The Tigers have always concentrated on a small varsity squad. . . . A reserve squad will probably be Mather's answer. . . . He says, "I feel you lose a good player now and then when you cut off some youngster coming into high school from junior high who hasn't grown up yet. A larger squad will enable us to keep these boys together and perhaps by their senior year some of them may mature sufficiently to make the varsity team. At least they will have the fun of playing football, and developing their bodies and will have profited from it in that way."

★ ★ ★

L. J. SMITH, the Massillon superintendent of schools, goes right along with Mather's ideas on an enlarged grid program. . . . Smith expects the operation to add about $800 to the football budget but feels that youngsters whose bodies do not measure up to varsity requirements still should have an opportunity to play football. . . . "It's case of putting football on the same basis as choir and dramatic club," he said. "We once had but one choir. Now we have a first and second choir, the latter for students whose voices have not developed sufficiently for first choir requirements, but who still are given the opportunity to enjoy singing under trained leadership." . . . The Massillon board also is after an enlarged physical education program. . . . All of which, of course, leaves a couple of choice coaching spots available at Hamilton. . . . The Big Blue cage team has four first stringers back next year. . . . With the prospect of an expanded program at Massillon, we feel that now is the time for Mansfield athletic officials to line up spring sports dates with Massillon for next year. . . . The Northern Ohio league purportedly will include all sports and the spring endeavors would be the easiest to line up.

Tygers Lose First Ball Game, 4-3

Ashland A's Score 2 In Top of 5th

By CHARLEY STINE

Rain, loose fielding, and some free swinging Ashland batters combined yesterday to bring a sudden halt to Senior high's winning streak which had reached five games. Ashland defeated the Tygers, 4-3, at Blue Goose in a game halted by rain at the end of the fifth inning.

Almost the entire game was played in a downpour before being halted by Umpire Red Hamman at the end of the five innings needed to make it official.

While suffering their first defeat, the Tygers had shown their best batting form of the season by pounding out six hits during the first four innings. They scored once in each of the first three frames and led 3-2 coming into the fifth inning when fate took a hand.

ONLY ONE WALK

Gregorio issued his only walk of the day to open the fifth and the next two men beat out bunts. Both were poorly executed but the Tyger pitcher missed them by inches in an attempt to make diving catches.

With the bases loaded and none out, Coach Jimmy Lymper brought Shelly Swank in to replace Gregorio and sent Lou to right field. Marchant took over at second base.

Swank got the first man on a force at home and struck out the second, but Glasser, the A's pitcher hoisted a little fly to right. By this time the rain had made the field a sea of mud and Gregorio slipped and fell trying to get under the ball. Two runs romped home to give the visitor's their winning margin.

IN QUICK ORDER

The Tygers went out in quick order in the last of the fifth and protested mildly when Hamman called the game. The rain increased slightly in tempo, however, and the field had already become very slippery.

Ashland started off in the lead when Plank led off the game with a double and rode home on an infield out and a long fly. The Tygers tied the game in the bottom of the first on Dick Messner's bobble of Sparkie Watts grounder, a stolen base and Joe Miller's single.

Senior high went ahead in the second when Don Gross was hit by a pitched ball and Phil Rogers, Charles Marchant and Lou Gregorio followed with singles. Gross was out at the plate trying to score on Marchant's hit but Gregorio batted Rogers home.

Hits by Plank and Messner tied the game for the A's in the top of the third but the Tygers came back to forge ahead on a single by Shelly Swank, walk to Sparkie Watts, error by A's third baseman and long fly by Mike Gruber.

Hedges Piles Up Winning Total In 'Kid' Track Meet

Placing in all but one event the Hedges school team won the annual grade school track and field championship yesterday at Stadium field.

Coach Mike Hallabrin's talented crew ran up 39 points to succeed Bowman as champion. Bushnell took second place with 18 points while Newman ended in third place with 17. The Dave Ohly paced Prospect team picked up 15 points.

Ohly was the meet's leading scorer wth 13 points. He won the 50-yard dash, took second in the broad jump and notched a third in the hurdles. Ned Diemer, Carpenter, was second with 11. Diemer copped the shot put and tied for first with George Ackinclose, Bushnell, in the pole vault.

THREE FIRSTS

Hedges' Dick Bricker won the high jump and took a third in the pole vault for nine tallies. Dave Jacobs in the broad jump and the 440-yard relay team of Jacobs, Pete Grassell, Jack Cline and Ed Avery copped the other Hedges first places.

W. B. Jones, the Bushnell basketball ace, laid away the other victory when he won the hurdles.

Other team scores follow: Carpenter 11½, West Fifth 6, Bowman 4, Brinkerhoff 1½.

60-yard hurdles—Won by W. B. Jones (Bushnell); 2. Ed Avery (Hedges); 3. Dave Ohly (Prospect); 4. Jim Gouge (Hedges); 5. Chuck Anderson (Brinkerhoff). Time: 8.5 sec.

440-yard relay—Won by Hedges (Dave Jacobs, Pete Grassell, Jack Cline, Ed Avery); 2. Bushnell; 3. Newman; 4. Prospect; 5. Bowman. Time 58.1 seconds.

O-1 Rained Out

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Rain washed out the entire four-game program of the Ohio Indiana baseball league last night, leaving the teams to make up the games in doubleheaders.

Sport Center Wins 'A' Title

Ohio Sport Center won only one of three games from Lemley Cleaners on the Colony alleys last night but managed to win the Women's Commercial A bowling league title by a two-game margin.

The second-place PD's Bar team won two of three from Mansfield Frosted Foods. The PD's quintet had the high single game of 874 and the top team total of 2,450 pins. Arlene Peter, PD's lead-offer, topped the individuals with 216-167-157—540.

Dorothy McDevitt of Sport Center had the high single game of 218. Other high scores were turned in by: Mary McMullen, Safety Cabs, 176-172-179—527 and Donna Schuster, Sport Center, 152-212-158—522.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting

Johnny Mize, Giants—Homered, doubled and singled to drive in three runs on return to lineup after two-game layoff.

Bobby Brown, Yanks—Hit disputed two-run homer in eighth inning to tame Browns, 6-5; drove in four runs with two hits.

Pitching

Ray Poat, Giants—Limited Pittsburgh to four hits, snapping Pirates six-game win streak, 9-2.

Piles Are Never "Mild"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Athletics Were Picked For Low Spot; Look at 'Em Leading American League

By JACK HAND
(AP) Sports Writer

Give a cheer for 85-year-old Connie Mack and his surprising Philadelphia Athletics. Five straight wins, climaxed by a kayo decision over Bobby Feller, have boosted the A's into the American league lead.

Picked for the second division with the White Sox, Browns and Senators, the Athletics begin to look like serious contenders for a higher spot.

HIT ONLY .246

It's difficult to put a finger on the reason. They are hitting only .246 as a club and the top batter, Pete Suder at .346, is spotted eighth in the order. Only five of the first 14 pitchers went the route. Still they win. Shortstop Eddie Joost, with four homers and a .333 average rates some credit.

Pitching, of course, is the strong point, despite sore arms and the poor spring form of Bill McCahan and Joe Coleman. Lou Brissie, brilliant rookie with the injured leg, helped out with two wins and now Dick Fowler seems ready.

Fowler worked only two-thirds of an inning on relief before yesterday's 8-5 victory over Cleveland.

George Vico, Detroit's rookie first baseman, and Birdie Tebbets, the Boston Red Sox's catcher, staged fight to enliven proceedings at Fenway Park. The two players fell when Tebbets tagged Vico as a squeeze play went away.

Vico punched Tebbets' mask, Birdie flung it off and threw a punch. After they had been separated and ejected from the game, they scuffled in the tunnel to the dressing rooms.

Commercial Pin Loop Schedules Annual Fete

The Commercial "B" league bowling banquet will be staged next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Liederkranz hall.

Officers of the league are: Jess Willard, president; William S. Young, vice president and A. J. Shepherd, secretary-treasurer.

Although the Red Sox knocked out Hal Newhouser in the first inning, they lost the game to Detroit, 8-3. Hal White walked six but allowed only four hits in 8 2/3 innings while the Tigers flattened Jack Kramer with his first loss.

There was an argument in New York, too, where the St. Louis Browns claimed Bobby Brown's game-winning homer was a foul ball. The homer came with a man on in the eighth for a 6-5 Yankee victory.

Washington pulled up to the .500 mark by shutting out Chicago for the second night in a row, 5-0, on Early Wynn's three-hit pitching, none in the last six frames.

STREAK BROKEN

Pittsburgh's six-game win streak was broken in the National league by the New York Giants 9-2. The result left the Buds in first place by only 18 percentage points.

All other National league games were washed out — Brooklyn at Chicago, Boston at Cincinnati and a scheduled night meeting of Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Indians Scalped Again By A's

Tribesmen Drop Down To Third

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Philadelphia story is a sad one for Cleveland Indian fans today.

When the Redskins invaded the "City of Brotherly Love" last Tuesday, the Athletics promptly handed them their third defeat in a row. Wednesday, fortunately for the Indians, the game was called because of wet grounds.

However, it didn't rain in Shibe park yesterday and Connie Mack's surprising A's again downed the Tribe, 8-5, to sweep the series and hand the Redskins their fourth defeat in a row.

Still strong at the plate but weak in the pitcher's box, the Tribe, by virtue of yesterday's loss, took a nose dive from their first-place berth in the American league to the third-place spot.

The Athletics now reign with New York second.

KEY MEN COLLAPSE

The Tribe's two key men, Manager Lou Boudreau and Bob Feller, virtually collapsed in the field. The Tribe manager contributed to his team's drubbing by making two errors in one inning as Fireballer Feller was again driven out of the box by five earned runs on eight hits.

Despite the loss, Ken Keltner and Joe Gordon salvaged part of the Indians' reputation as a slugging club by smashing home runs. The two blows ran the team total to 18 in 10 games.

Three extra runs were given to the A's by Boudreau, who committed two errors in the first inning, both on what could have been double play balls. The Athletics scored four times in that frame although only one ball rolled past the infield.

FELLER WALKS FIVE

In pitching three and one-third innings, slightly less than he hurled last Saturday against Detroit, Feller had difficulty finding the plate. He walked five. It was his second defeat in a row against as many victories.

After Feller hit the showers, the Indians were given very effective relief hurling by Steve Gromek and Lyman Linde, who blanked the A's for the rest of the distance.

The Indians were batting against the capable offerings of Dick Fowler, one of the A's leading hurlers, who scattered eight hits and walked four.

KELTNER'S HOMER

After the Athletics tallied four runs in the first the Tribe came back with four in the second. A walk to Robinson, a single by Hank Edwards and a walk to Gordon set the stage for Keltner's grand slam homer.

The Tribesmen open a two-game series with Washington tonight. Bob Lemon, the only Cleveland starter who hasn't been knocked out of the box, will be seeking his third win against only one setback. Mickey Haefner probably will oppose him.

Tennis Team Still Seeks First Win

Coach Fred Staub's Senior high tennis team is still looking for its first victory of the season after dropping a 4-0 decision to Sandusky in a match halted by rain yesterday.

Four singles matches had been played, all won by Sandusky, when the rain came. Jim Shelly had lost to Jim Blough, 8-10 and 1-6; Jim Gandert fell before Jim Thomas, 5-7 and 4-6. Jim Goodman bowed to Jack Shaeffer, 1-6 and 1-6, and Ed Brown defeated Bill McGraw 6-4 and 5-7.

Senior high's John Crouse had just won the first set 6-2 and was tied 3-3 in the second when the action was stopped. Both doubles matches were rained out.

Fremont will come here next Tuesday for a return match on the Maple Lake park courts.

Crews Race On Muskingum

MARIETTA —(AP)—Eight-oared crews of Washington and Lee university and Marietta college drop their racing shells into the Muskingum river today for a pair of trials.

Both varsity and Jayvee crews of the two schools will tour the one and 5-16 miles Muskingum river course—the only eight-oared races planned in this section this year.

Marietta crewmen this year are untested in collegiate competition, but the Generals from Lexington, Va., have met both the American International University and Rollins College of Florida crews this season.

Practice Data

Four softball teams have been assigned practice time on city softball diamonds today by Recreation Director Stan Kamen.

Scheduled to work out at 5:30 p. m. are: Post 16 at Liberty park, the Telephone company at Johns park, Park Avenue Baptist church team at Prospect park and Four Square Gospel church at North Lake Park.

Broken Nose Delays Belloise-Hunter Meet

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Cleveland's "fight of the decade," was set back a couple of months today because of a broken nose.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins announced that the scheduled return match between middleweights Steve Belloise and Chuck Hunter of Cleveland on May 17 has been cancelled because of the injury suffered by the New Yorker.

Sulphur Springs Wins Girls Track Meet

NORTH ROBINSON—The Sulphur Springs High School girls track team took first place in the Crawford County track meet at North Robinson yesterday afternoon. Second place honors went to North Robinson.

Marilyn Crum of Tiro won the hundred yard dash by the toss of a coin after tieing with a Sulphur Springs girl. Eight schools took part in the meet.

Dill Wins Thriller For Lexington, 4-3

Lexington high school tacked a story-book finish onto its opening game of the district baseball tournament yesterday at Old Fort, edging Fremont St. Joseph 4-3 in the 15th inning.

Fred Gore doubled with Marion Altman on second base in the top of the 15th to give the Richland countians the victory. Altman had reached base on an error and stole second.

Dick Dill was the real Lexington hero, going the full 15 frames on the mound and scattering nine hits. His mates committed four errors behind him but he refused to be ruffled. The game was unusually fast, taking only two hours and 15 minutes to complete.

PLYMOUTH WINS

Plymouth, scheduled to play Norwalk St. Paul, won by a forfeit when the Norwalk team failed to show for the game. Plymouth will meet Bettsville at noon next Monday while Lexington will play Woodsville at 2 p. m.

The Fremont-Lexington game yesterday was tied at the end of the regulation seven innings. Lexington scored in the top of the eighth but Fremont came back and tied it up in the last half. The next six innings were scoreless.

Rollin Ford, Lexington's all-around athlete, got the longest hit of the day, a three-bagger in the first inning.

Tom Tucker Wins Skish Contest at Y

Tom Tucker, Senior high school baseball player, won the 15-17 year age division of the Mansfield Skish contest last night in the YMCA.

Tucker scored an average of 45 points while Ed Schmitt and Elvin Hawkins were tied for second with a 35-point average. Schmitt won in a playoff.

In the 12-14 division Charles Burkhart was the winner with a 35 point average while Jim Foss was runnerup with 30 points and Bob Denig was third with 25.

Approximately 50 boys took part in the contest.

Chicago Is Scene Of Fights Tonight

CHICAGO — (AP) — Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light heavyweight, and Elmer (Violent) Ray, Hastings, Fla., heavyweight, meet tonight in Chicago stadium in a return 10-round bout which has twice been postponed.

It will be the first major professional show in Chicago in 77 days. On the previous card on Feb. 20, Charles knocked out Sam Barouli, of Akron, O., in the 10th round. Barouli died six hours later. Tonight's bout will be the first for Charles since then.

Ohio State Offers Coaching Clinic

COLUMBUS—(AP)— Ohio State University offered its 17th annual football clinic for the Buckeye high school coaches today, and between 500 and 600 of the scholastic mentors were scheduled to attend.

Frank Leahy, Notre Dame coach, was to open the program at 9 a. m. with an outline of the "T" offense. The Irish coach, arriving at 7:50 a. m. was to fly back to South Bend in time for this afternoon's grid practice.

Ninth In ABC

DETROIT—(INS)—The Ira Wilson quintet of Detroit slipped into ninth place in American Bowling Congress tournament standings last night by registering 2960, the only impressive score posted all day.

Senior High Athletes In Canton Relays

Twenty-one Senior high school track and field athletes will compete in the seventh annual Canton McKinley night relays tomorrow.

It will be the fifth relay appearance for Harry Mehock's squad which is unbeaten in four dual meets this season. The Tygers won the Uhrichsville relays and took fourth in the Newark event last week.

Tommy Tucker will make the trip but may not be able to go at full speed. The ebony sprint and broad jump ace has a pulled muscle in his leg.

Mehock today named the following men to make the trip: sprints, Tucker, Bob Troll and John Bricker, 440, Willie Fowler, and Ken Cline; 880, Paul Hammond and Pete Vogt; mile run, Alan Poorman, Gerry Gerrell, Denny Ryan; hurdles, Marty Bricker, A. C. Jenkins and George Russell.

Weights, Burt Lindsay and Ken Snyder; pole vault, Don Cline, Paul Ferguson and Lou Gregorio; high jump, Fowler and Ferguson; broad jump, Tucker and George Doyle, relays, Chuck Eagleston and Floyd Guegold.

Mangrum Cracks Course Record

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who cracked the course record with a first round 66, faced an immediate showdown today with red-hot Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., in the second round of the $10,000 Goodall round robin golf tournament.

Mangrum was the leader as the 16 leading pros in the game headed into the second round but Barron was only a point behind.

Organize Grid Loop

WHEELING, W. Va. — (UP) — Representatives of cities interested in organizing a semi-pro football league were scheduled to meet here tonight. Expected to be represented were Wheeling, Weirton and Parkersburg, W. Va., and Massillon, Steubenville and Bellaire, O.

New Faces Listed For Grays Nine

Several new faces will be in the lineup when the Mansfield Grays' semi-professional baseball team opens its 1948 season against the Marion VFW aggregation at 2:30 p. m. Sunday on the refurbished Blue Goose field.

Outstanding among the newcomers may be Kenny Funk, the former Ashland college sports star. Funk was an all-Ohio back for the Eagles two years ago and last year played baseball with Coshocton in the Central Ohio league. He is an infielder.

Manager Lefty Deeds has sliced his roster to 15 players for the coming season. More than 30 area athletes tried for places on the Grays' squad. Deeds may give several other players a chance to make the roster as the season progresses.

PITCHING STAFF

Jack Hammett, Dick Fought and the Veteran Merle Leedy will handle the Mansfield mound chores with Tick Hamilton and John Heckert listed as catchers. Hammett is a regular moundsman on the Ohio State university club now.

Joining Funk in the infield will be Red Hamman, former Grays' manager; Dick Burton, Foster Burggraf and Billie Miller. The outfield staff includes Russ Leedy, Wilbur Wade, Jim Meeting, Bobby Bogantz and Dubby Lockhart. Wade may be changed to a catcher.

Deeds has been impressed by the showing of Lockhart, Meeting and Leedy in the outfield. Meeting was a member of the Senior high school district championship club.

Appleseed Wins First Track Meet

The Johnny Appleseed junior high school track team won its first meet of the season Friday, defeating the Ashland reserves, 51-49, at Ashland.

Ashland collected its points on place positions being able to beat the local lads out for first in only four events. Ashland won the 220, 440 relay, high jump and pole vault.

The Appleseed victory was well divided, not a single man winning two events.

Trans-Jordan Holds Power To Solve Holy Land Issue

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The statement made to the United Nations on Palestine by the British colonial secretary, Arthur Creech Jones, is an auspicious event. That is not only because it is the most sensible and useful contribution yet made to the discussion, but because it shows that Great Britain, now that she is about to be relieved of her thankless burdens as the ruler of Palestine, is preparing to take a leading part, which no one else can take, in working out a general settlement.

British leadership is indispensable to a settlement because, as a matter of fact, what has to be settled is the relationship between the Jewish state, which already exists de facto, and the Arab kingdom of Trans-Jordan, which is a British protectorate.

In this situation Britain has a dual role: as one of the great powers in the UN responsible for making and keeping peace, as the one great power which by treaty and by its military and financial connections is responsible for the conduct of the only Arab state which can wage a serious war or make a genuine peace in Palestine. These two roles are not contradictory but complementary.

What Creech Jones has proposed is that the UN give up the notion of creating and imposing a new regime in Palestine, and that it concentrate its efforts on mediation between the Jewish and the Arab communities. To do this he suggests the appointment of a commission, which would hold, so to speak, in escrow the legal titles to the undivided assets of Palestine, and would seek to arrange a truce, then presumably a treaty of alliance or confederation, between the de facto provisional governments of the Arab and the Jewish communities.

ENDS FALSE PROBLEM

This suggestion disposes of the false problem which has so confused and obscured the real problem. It does away with the imaginary problem that partition was something to be "enforced" by an international army, that a united country had to be divided forcibly from the outside.

It does away with the imaginary solution that partition could be renounced or abandoned. It recognizes the plain fact that partition has occurred, that "services, once run by the central government, are now in the hands of Jewish and Arab communities; and that, psychologically, a new sense of responsibility toward the maintenance by each community, of its own life, has been created."

The real problem, therefore, is not whether Palestine is to be partitioned, or whether it ought to be, but how—since partition has occurred—a truce, a peace, and finally some form of confederation can be negotiated and accepted.

In this the role of Trans-Jordan is crucial. For events have shown that the Arab guerrillas in Palestine are no match for the Haganah, and that they lack the organization and the force to establish a provisional government. It is reasonably certain that they must lean on King Abdullah and his little Trans-Jordan army.

It follows that the military truce, which everyone must desire, will have to be arranged between the Haganah and the Trans-Jordan army, and that a political peace will have to be negoitated between the kingdom of Trans-Jordan and the provisional government of the Jewish state.

For that there is needed the mediation of Great Britain, closely and sympathetically supported by the United States, and operating with the moral authority of the United Nations.

It is fairly evident that the real problem, as respects King Abdullah, is how to enable him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the Arab territory and of making a treaty with the Jewish state.

Obviously neither the British government nor the United Nations can permit him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the whole of it. They are bound to restrain him from doing that. But they have at the same time every reason to make arrangements by which he is invited to come in to the Arab territory peaceably and to participate in the negotiation of a treaty of settlement.

That requires the exercise of British influence to restrain him from aggression, and of British statesmanship, with American and United Nations support, to make the enlargement of his kingdom an orderly process. Almost certainly it requires also a promise of reinforcements by which he can protect himself against conspiracies and assassinations on the part of the grand mufti and his other Arab enemies.

FACES DANGER

For it is the danger of being stabbed in the back that almost certainly stands in the way of his playing the part which is so greatly in the interest of his kingdom, his dynasty and of the peace and prosperity of Palestine.

It would seem to be indicated, therefore, that Britain and the United States should strengthen the military position in Trans-Jordan, that they should in fact make that sparsely inhabited but strategically important country their principal military position in the Middle East.

What needs to be done to solve the problem of Palestine needs also to be done to solve the problem of maintaining the position of the western world in the Middle East.

Clear Fork Equipment Bids Asked

City Also Seeks Offers on Bridge

The city asked bids today on material and equipment at the main pumping station at the Clear Fork dam and on labor and materials for the Gass road bridge over the Clear Fork.

Bids will be opened at noon, May 28. Separate bids are asked on labor and material for the bridge.

Bids on the pumping station material and equipment must be submitted in four parts: on transformers; sub-station equipment; pumps, motors and induction motor controls, and on switchboard equipment.

Meanwhile, the city's board of control yesterday awarded a contract for resurfacing South Adams street to the Mansfield Asphalt company. Sole bidder on the street project, the company came out with only one part of the four-part program due to insufficient funds allocated by council.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said that unless council appropriates more money to meet the bids on the project, three other streets included in the program may be forgotten "for the present."

Mansfield Asphalt's bid was $4,520 on the South Adams street resurfacing. The estimate was $4,141.

Other streets in the project are Maple street from Marion to Brinkerhoff avenues; East Second street from South Main to Hedges streets and North Adams from East Sixth to Orange streets and Orange street from North Adams street to Newman street.

Used equipment sold by the city yesterday to the highest bidders included:

Three-quarter ton, 1937 truck, $75.50; ton and a half 1935 dump truck, $211, and a 1937 coupe, $67.50 to Paul Whisler, Shelby, R. D. 3. A 1946 two-door police cruiser was sold to Okey M. Stickler, 45 West Second street for $575.

Senior High Golfers Win Third

Coach V. H. Oberlander's golfers were the only Senior high athletic team to win yesterday despite the fact that four were in action.

The Tyger linksmen won their third match against a single defeat by trimming Elyria, 7 to 5, on the Cherry Ridge Golf club at Elyria.

Larry Inscore shot a 40-40—80 to take medalist honors among the locals but Shedron of the home team set the pace with 39-37—76.

The Tygers plan extensive practice rounds next week before meeting Shelby here on Thursday and playing in the district tournament at Findlay on Saturday.

Although shooting the highest score, Steve Demyan was the only Tyger to win all three points yesterday as he beat Sexton of Elyria who shot 49-47—96. Demyan's score was 45-44—89. Tony Taddeo, with 43-45—88, won two points from A. Stednicki, who toured the links in 46-41—87. Larry Inscore also won two points against L. Stednicki's 41-40—81.

Jim Chamberlan with 47-40—87, dropped both nines to Shedron of Elyria.

★

Coach Mike Byelene's reserve baseball team was trailing 2-1 when rain stopped play in the fourth inning. The little Tygers were playing Bellville's varsity at Liberty park.

1,503 Planes In Flight Contacted

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT—Virgil Morgan, chief of the Airway Communication station, reports that 1,503 contacts with aircraft in flight were made during April.

★

RECENT VISITORS—R. G. Krueger of Anderson Air Activities in Milwaukee, Wis.

M. L. Ashford, flying a Twin Beechcraft in from Lowry, Mont. The Mangus Cattle company uses this airplane in its cattle business. Ashford, the pilot, was on his way to Atlantic City to receive a medal of merit in connection with his submarine patrol work on the Atlantic coast during World War II. He was one of the early Civil Air Patrol members assigned to anti-submarine duty.

Fifty planes (Cubs and Aeroncas) met in Mansfield for breakfast Sunday morning. They gathered in from Bluffton, Ada, Pandora and Findlay.

Five Navy planes (four Corsairs and one Beechcraft) stopped in Mansfield to pick up membership cards for American Legion Roundup in Ohio.

Harold Smith, president of the Smith Tool and Engineering company, Cleveland, (formerly of Bucyrus, O.) has installed the latest Airline type VHF radio equipment in his Twin Beech. On his recent visit to Mansfield he proudly displayed this modern equipment.

Confer On Guard Plans

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and several interested Mansfielders will meet with high army officials Tuesday at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, to discuss the feasibility of basing the 164th Fighter Squadron Air National Guard at Municipal airport.

This meeting was to be held in Mansfield last month, but the Ohio river floods made it impossible for one of the army officers to attend the meeting and it was cancelled.

Alan Tappan and Otis Cumins, of the mayor's National Guard promotion committee, also will make the trip to Columbus.

Army officials have indicated that the group will be stationed at Mansfield if they can be assured that a sufficient number of men can be signed up for the outfit.

Shelby Sounding Fast Time Views

SHELBY — A poll of employes in Shelby factories soon will be taken to determine their views on the question of "fast" or "slow" time. Mayor W. R. Morris said he would ask the factories to determine the views of their workers. Shelby at present is on "slow" time.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals addressed to: Director of Service - Safety, Mansfield, Ohio, and endorsed "Proposal for Material and Equipment, Main Pumping Station, Mansfield, Ohio, will be received by the Director of Service-Safety of Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio, until 12:00 noon, E. S. T., May 28, 1948, and then and there publicly opened and read.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Director, or at the office of the Engineers, The Jennings-Lawrence Company, Suite 538, Rowlands Building, Columbus, Ohio, and the same are referred to for details. Prospective bidders may obtain copies of the plans and specifications from the Director or Engineers upon payment to them of $5.00, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the plans are returned, in good condition, on or before the day of the letting.

All bids must be made on forms furnished by the Director or Engineers and all conditions herein contained and all blanks must be properly filled in except that prices shall not be bid for items not appearing on the Engineers' estimate. No additional prices or qualifying clauses shall be written in.

Prices for labor and material shall be bid separately.

No bid will be allowed to be withdrawn, for any reason, after it has been deposited with the Director.

A bond or a certified check on a solvent bank located in Ohio, for an amount not less than 5% of the total amount of the bid must accompany this proposal, subject to the conditions stated in the proposal as security for the execution of the contract within ten (10) days after the award is made.

A bond for the fulfillment of the contract will be required in the amount of 100% per cent of the contract price and in the form required by law.

Sureties on all bonds must be surety companies satisfactory to the City.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Any award made will be made to the lowest and best bidder. Informalities may be waived at the option of the City.

Each bid must contain the full name and address of each person or company interested in the same. When there is reason to believe that there is collusion or combination among the bidders, the bids of those concerned therein shall be rejected.
